Rocks Register Shutout Victory Over Pascagoula

Spotting the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws of Bay St. Louis a big weight advantage proved too costly Friday afternoon for the Pascagoula Panthers and they dropped their initial Class A regional game of the season, 18 to 0, before a small crowd at Pascagoula.

The Pantners were handicapped by the absence of Bobbie Daggett, [illegible]ar back, who suffered an in[illegible]red knee in last week's game with McGill. The Panthers missed scoring in the second period when Ray Williamson intercepted Digirolamo's pass on the Rock's 45 and ran it back to the 30 before he was pulled down by Digirolamo, the only man between him and the goal. They missed another opportunity in the final period when Bobby Kell hit Williamson with a 35-yard pass and he ran it to the 15 yard line before he was pulled down. As the final seconds ticked by, Kell in trying to find a receiver ran around his left end and was knocked out of bounds on the 5-yard stripe as the game ended.

The Rock-a-Chaws scored their first touchdown on a 50-yard drive with Nick Digirolamo alternating with Peyton Waters to carry the ball into promised land. The touchdown was set up as the Rocks took the ball in midfield and Dirgirolamo ran the ends to put the ball on the Panther 21 as the first period ended.

Taking over on the 21, Dirgirolamo plowed over guard for the distance in two tries. Waters failed to buck it over for the extra point although he had two tries.

Loosening their power with full force in the second half the Rock-a-Chaws took the kickoff on their 10 yard stripe and did not call it quits until they had shoved over another tally. The touchdown started with Dirgirolamo taking it on the 10 and going back to his 38. On the next play he skirted around his right end for 17 yards, followed by a 16-yard run around the other end by Sidney Gautreaux. Although the Rocks received a 15 yard clipping penalty, Gautreaux came back to circle the end for 20 yards followed by Waters' buck through the center to put the ball on the Panther 15.

Following two fumbles sandwiched between a 5-yard penalty for the Rocks and two 5-yard penalties for the Panthers the visitors hit pay dirt from the one yard line with Jack Perkins registering the score. Digirolamo failed to buck the ball over for the extra point.

The Rocks rang up their final score in the fourth period on five plays. Taking the ball they drove for a first down on the Panthers' [illegible]3 yard line. On the first play Digirolamo circled wide around his right end, behind good blocking for 22 yards to put the ball on the Panther 6. Gautreaux lost six yards, but it was short lived as Joseph Killeen went over guard for the score.

(Special to The Times-Picayune)

Bay St. Louis, Miss., Oct. 24.—St. Stanislaus' domination in the second half gave the Rockachaws a 14-13 victory over Moss Point here this afternoon.

Extra points by Gautreaux proved to be the margin of victory.

Moss Point scored in the second period to hold a 6-0 lead at the half, but the Rocks bounced back with two touchdowns for a 14-6 lead in the third and fourth periods. Then, late in the final chapter, a 42-yard pass clicked for

SCOTT LEADS NORMAL OVER SOUTHEASTERN

(The Associated Press)

Natchitoches, La., Oct. 31.—Playing most of the way on a rain-swept field, Louisiana Normal lucked out over a surprisingly strong Southeastern Louisiana college eleven of Hammond here last night 7 to 6 in a homecoming tilt.

Both teams scored their touchdowns in the third quarter, the Demons tallying first when Captain Theophiel Scott, playing his last game on the local field, skirted right end for eight yards. Tinsley, sophomore guard, went into the game to kick the winning extra point from placement.

Southeastern came right back, taking the ball on its 36-yard stripe and driving down the field to the Demons' one, where Marley went over off tackle. Reisz' placement was low.

The Lions threatened Normal's goal line throughout the final quarter, but Scott's kicking set them back each time. Southeastern had the edge in first downs 14 to 12.

Southwestern Downs La. Tech by 12 to 7 Score

(Special to The Times-Picayune)

McNaspy Stadium, Lafayette, La., Oct. 31.—A 75-yard run by Left End Robert Fitzgerald, and a center buck from the one-yard line by Fullback Charles Robinson, gave the Southwestern Louisiana Institute Bulldogs a brilliant 12-to-7 victory over the highly touted Louisiana Tech eleven here Friday night. The game was the all-important tussle of the week in the Louisiana Intercollegiate Conference, with victory giving the Bulldogs another progressive step toward the championship of the state loop.

Marking the annual home-coming classic at McNaspy Stadium the game pitted traditional rivals battling on about even terms throughout the evening. It was brisk football weather Friday and during the game light showers sent the throngs of fans scurrying to shelter.

Southwestern scored brilliantly both times. Early in the second quarter when the Techsters fumbled on the Southwestern 25-yard line Left End Robert Fitzgerald of Oakdale scooped up the ball and, behind good interference on the part of his mates raced the distance of the field for the first talley of the ball game. Then in the third stanza the Southwesterners again moved into pay dirt following a sustained drive down the field. Voitier set the stage for the second touchdown by completing a pass to Fitzgerald putting the ball on the seven-yard line. From there Voitier picked up four and then Robinson was stopped on the one-yard line, but on the next play the ace fullback edged over into the end zone.

The Techsters scored with Perritt doing most of the carrying from his own 42-yard line where the tally drive began. A pass from Perritt to Rive placed the ball on the 20-yard marker, and from there on two plays Harelson, Tech fullback, registered the upstate Bulldogs' only touchdown. From placement Didier added the extra point.

STEALS SHOW BEFORE 13,000 AT CITY PARK

Defeat Is First for Jays in 15 Consecutive Contests

By Stanford Opotowsky

"Doc" Blanchard, crashing through the Jesuit line time and time again with the power of a double-duty battering ram and the fury of a cornered tiger, stole the whole show Sunday as he led his St. Stanislaus teammates to a thrilling 7-6 victory over the battling Blue Jays before 13,000 fans at City Park Stadium.

And thus the Mississippi Gulf coast grid greats remain among the ranks of the unbeaten and untied, their eyes now cast hungrily on a perfect season and perhaps an invitation to the Toy Bowl. But in retaining their perfect slate, the Rocks ruined that of the Blue Jays. This was the first defeat in 15 straight contests for Gernon Brown's lads, but it was, to be sure, a decisive one.

It seems that someone taught Blanchard the old axiom, "the shortest distance between two points is a straight line," and the "Doc" makes good use of this knowledge. He is not a fast runner, but nobody worries about that. The 184-pound package of football dynamite decides where he is to run, and then starts in that direction, carrying some would-be tacklers on his back and trampling over others.

Also Line Backer

And the ability of this great one-man team doesn't stop there. He is one of the finest points about the Stanislaus defense. Serving as line backer, he gets in on over 50 per cent of the tackles. Add to this the fact that he does the kicking, and you have a man who doesn't even care whether the other 10 players are on the field or not.

The anticipated duel between Tony DiBartolo of Jesuit and Blanchard didn't amount to much because DiBartolo was sadly off form. Tony's defensive work again was almost the best the Jays had to offer, but the few times Tony carried the ball he didn't do much. A 15-yard end run off the "T" formation early in the fourth period was his only good effort. Three fumbles were charged against him during the afternoon, and a total of seven were committed by his team.

Statistics Favor Rocks

The statistics favor the Rockachaws in every department. They gained 213 yards running (153 of which may be traced to the unstoppable Mr. Blanchard) and netted 203 for the day. Jesuit gained 102 on the ground and had a net of 132, including 51 yards picked up on four completed passes. The first downs favored the visitors, 10-7.

The Jays took a lead in the opening period on a drive from their 41, conducted mostly through the air. Widmer passed to Loker for 17 yards. Coates got nine off tackle, and, after three line thrusts, Coates tossed a pass for 14 yards to Widmer on the Rockachaw four. On the next try DiBartolo fumbled and recovered back on the eight. Widmer circled end for two yards, and, after one pass effort failed, Coates clicked to Loker in the end zone on last down. Loker's placement missed the extra point, which subsequently cost Jesuit the ball game.

Rocks Score

It was in the second period that the Rocks first evened the count and then went out in front.

Blanchard had punted out of bounds on the Jesuit one, and from there Loker booted to midfield. Kiefer, on the return, brought the ball to the Jesuit 40. From this point Blanchard pounded the line steadily and unmercifully until his mates had a first down on the Jesuit three. Two more plunges brought the ball to the one. On third down "Doc" attempted to plow through the Jay forwards, but he was stopped cold. On fourth down, the entire Stanislaus backfield, save Blanchard, plunged into the center of the line. Meanwhile, "Doc" circled right end to score standing up.

Calmly he executed a perfect placement for the conversion—an extra point which gave the Rocks a 7-6 win.

Later in that period O'Connor recovered DiBartolo's fumble on the Jesuit 23, and after the line held for three downs Blanchard tried a field goal from the 15. It was no good, however.

Lucius Caruso and Gerry Ford did best in Jesuit's line while Harold Zimmerman and J. T. Prosser were the stars in the Stanislaus forward wall. However, on the whole the tackling of the Jesuit team was little short of atrocious.

Burge's Coaching Job

Pete Burge of St. Stanislaus showed high school (and older) fans a great coaching job Sunday afternoon at City Park Stadium. I know Pete has, in "Doc" Blanchard, one of the best all-around high school football players that ever trod a gridiron. "Doc" gained 153 of his team's 213 yards.

But when you consider that St. Stanislaus' touchdown was made on a pure drive down the field for 40 yards and that a line as light as the Rockachaws pushed a heavy and thoroughly able line like Jesuit's you realize there had to be good teamwork by the little fellows.

Blanchard is the answer to a coach's prayer. Think of a back who can pass, punt, kickoff, tackle, block, intercept—well do anything and everything. He played the whole game, as usual. In fact, nine of the Rockachaws stuck right in there from gong to gong. Coach Burge shuttled a couple of subs back and forth with messages to Garcia—or rather Blanchard.

Blanchard's permanence made one think of the shuttling that had to be done in the L. S U backfield Saturday. Leo Bird may not have been in shape a couple of weeks ago, but that Tennessee game really fixed him up. Fortunately the scene of action shifted up and down the field, or else Leo would have worn a path on the sward running in and out of the game. There hardly was a minute during the game when Bird wasn't running at top speed, either with the ball, into the lineup or back to the bench.

Stanislaus Wins Over Jesuit Blue Jays;

Blanchard Star Of Victory on Orleans Field

By CLINTON C. BLACKWELL
Sports Editor, The Daily Herald

New Orleans, Nov. 3—Thirteen thousand fans witnessed practically a one-man show at City Park stadium Sunday afternoon as Felix "Doc" Blanchard, one of the greatest prospects ever to sink a cleat into a southern high school football field, led the undefeated - untied St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws to a 7-6 victory over the Jesuit Blue Jays.

It was the sixth straight victory of the season for the Rocks, and the first defeat in fifteen games for the Blue Jays. But, believe you me, yesterday's setback for the Jays was even more decisive than the one-point margin would indicate.

Except in the first quarter when Jesuit drove for its touchdown, Blanchard and the Rock-a-Chaws were masters of the occasion. They scored in the second period, threatened again late in the half, and missed a couple more chances in the third quarter. One went by the boards when an attempted field goal was wide; a fumble punctured another, and two incomplete passes saw still another chance fade when the Rocks were deep in Jay territory.

On the statistical side of the board, the Rocks were superior. They picked up 203 net yards on running plays, while the Jays were gaining only 132 yards, passes and running combined. And Blanchard was the power of the Stanislaus attack, accounting for 150-odd yards himself, getting loose on three long jaunts before he was hauled down, as well as scoring the touchdown and booting the game-winning conversion from placement.

The Blue Jays touched pay dirt first on a 59-yard sustained drive in the opening quarter with most of the yardage being accounted for by the aerial route. A 17-yard pass, Widmer to Loker, and a 14-yard overhead, Coates to Widmer, with some running plays sandwiched along the way, moved the ball to Stanislau's four-yard line. A fumble lost four yards, an end run picked up two and a pass fell incomplete before Coates connected with Loker in the end zone on fourth down for the touchdown. Loker's placement sailed wide of the barrier.

The Rock-a-Chaws started moving in the second quarter with Blanchard putting the Jays in a tough spot when he knifed a beautiful punt out of bounds on the Jesuit one-yard line.

Loker kicked out and Keiffer returned to the Jays' 40, putting the Stanislaus scoring drive in motion. With Schmidt hitting off tackles on reverses and Blanchard pounding the line, the Rocks advanced to the Jays' three-yard line [illegible] 't was first down. The Jays [illegible] three successive [illegible] by Blanchard, but on fourth down "Doc" skirted end to score standing up. Then Blanchard kicked the all-important conversion squarely between the bars.

J. T. Prosser, Harold Zimmerman and Funk played standout games in the Stanislaus line and Blanchard added to his performance with some great defensive work from his backer-up position.

The Jesuit and Stanislaus bands added color to the occasion with half-time exhibitions. Stanislaus' baton twirler got a big hand from the crowd.

St. Stanislaus Is Favored Over Blue Jays In Big Sunday Tilt

By Hap Glaudi

St. Stanislaus' undefeated and untied Rockachaws. boasting the powerful Felix "Doc" Blanchard as its spearhead, is favored to defeat the defending city and state champion Jesuit Blue Jays Sunday afternoon at City Park Stadium.

The Jays, too, are unbeaten, but have a scoreless tie with St. Aloysius on their record. (That tie is a victory according to Louisiana State Prep school rules). And it is that scoreless battle with the Crusaders which has made the Blue Jays the underdogs in their scrap with the formidable Gulf Coast eleven Sunday. For the 'Rocks, on an earlier visit to New Orleans pasted a 14 to 0 on these same Crusaders and it is because of this fact that the public has gone over to the Mississippians.

Jesuit, however, will not want for its share of supporters. The Jays were particularly impressive in their 46 to 6 rout of Fortier last week and will be keen for the clash with the highly publicized Blanchard and company.

The Rockachaw record this season shows consecutive victories over Catholic High of Baton Rouge and Donaldsonville, Moss Point, Picayune, Moss Point and St. Aloysius. The Crusader triumph, of course, is the most impressive.

Jesuit has rolled over Behrman, Baton Rouge and Fortier and was tied up by the Crusaders. None of those foes, however, are considered in the same class with the Bay St. Louis boys.

The contest between the two Catholic schools is attracting lots of interest hereabouts and a crowd of more than 10,000 is expected to see the game which has been billed as a duel between Blanchard and the Jesuit captain, Tony DiBartolo, as its feature. Both these boys are powerful, smashing fullbacks and brilliant defensive performers.

Yet, despite the billing being given Blanchard and DiBartolo it would not be surprising to see some other Blue or Scarlet clad youngster rise and steal the show as Ray Broussard did last year. This Stanislaus boy swept the Blue Jays for 108 yards in 11 trips and topped all backs with a 9.3 average.

If such is to happen then you can expect it to be either Jesuit's Al Widmer or Ray Coates or Stanislaus' Elmer Breewood or Hugh Kiefer. Widmer is the Blue Jay wingback who is a whip on those reverse plays while Coates is doing duties at the important Jesuit tailback. Breerwood is the Rocks' clever quarterback who can toss a fine pass and Kiefer is a scatback who returned a punt for 51 yards and a TD against the Crusaders.

DIBARTOLO AND BLANCHARD TO DUEL IN GAME

Crowd of 15,000 Expected to See Undefeated Eleven

By Stanford Opotowsky

Jesuit and St. Stanislaus, a couple of prep gridiron powerhouses sparked by line-shattering fullbacks, will clash this afternoon at City Park Stadium, and a crowd of 15,000 or more fans is expected to witness the tussle.

The Blue Jays are defending city and state champions and have gone through 14 straight games the past two seasons without a defeat. Stanislaus' Rocks are the cream of Gulf coast football, having knocked off all opposition in their 1941 campaign. Thus, the records of the teams promise a red-hot ball game, but actually that's only one of several factors which figure to draw the largest crowd to date this year.

One reason why there's so much interest attached to today's contest is the clash between Tony DiBartolo, Jesuit's great battering ram, and "Doc" Blanchard, Stanislaus' entry in the triple-threat department. Both are big and powerful boys who plow through opposing lines like a tank rips through a wheat field.

DiBartolo Jay Great

DiBartolo is one of the greatest athletes ever to attend Jesuit, and this is his senior year—his last chance to play for the alma mater. That's one reason why he'll be giving his all this afternoon to knock off the Rockachaws. Tony's defensive work has played no little part in the Jays' rise to football prominence the past two seasons after a couple of lean years.

Blanchard was a sensation with the Rocks last year, and he's even better this season. Like DiBartolo, he's a fine line bucker and an ace on the defense. Too, both boys handle the bulk of their teams' passing. So you can see there's a real individual battle coming up today.

But while Blanchard and DiBartolo figure to be the stars of this game, there are several other boys who show plenty of promise. J. T. Prosser and Harold Zimmerman on the left side of the Stanislaus line are touted by Jesuit coaches as the men to really fear tihs afternoon, but the entire Rock forward wall is tough to penetrate. That has been shown in all past performances this season.

Also Has Line Aces

Jesuit also has its good forwards, Gerry Ford, Tom Loker, Keith Hardie and Lucius Caruso have all done well in the early games this season. And they figure to be "high" when they meet the coast invaders today.

St. Stanislaus has played in New Orleans once before already this season, and that was a month ago when the Rocks handed the flashy St. Aloysius Crusaders a 14-0 licking, thanks principally to the playing of Blanchard. That game is the only one by which you can compare the Jays and the Rocks, for Jesuit tied Aloysius, 0-0, a week later. However, the Crusader team was much better against the Jays than it was against its coast rival.

Last year when the teams met Jesuit scored a thrilling 21-0 victory. Subsequently the Jays went on to parlay the city and state crowns. They are seeking to do the same thing this season.

In Fine Shape

Both teams are in fine shape for this afternoon's battle. The Jays' second tailback, Harry Begg, has come around despite an early-week injury. Jay Schulte, who would have been the starting left half had he not injured a bad knee before the season started, is also in pretty good shape and may play. But Coach Gernon Brown would rather hold him out for the tough schedule which lies ahead.

The Rocks will be coming here in fine shape, ready to get revenge for last season's reversal.

The kickoff today will be at 2:30.

PREP PREVIEWS and REVIEWS

BY STANFORD OPOTOWSKY

Prep fans throughout Mississippi and Louisiana have been speculating all season as to what would happen when Tony DiBartolo of Jesuit and "Doc" Blanchard of St. Stanislaus tangled in a ball game, and this afternoon they'll get a chance to find out.

But the real issue, to our minds, is not what Blanchard will do against DiBartolo. Instead we're interested in seeing just how well this tornado blowing in from the coast can do against the powerful Jesuit team which hasn't been defeated in 14 times out.

To be sure, the duel between DiBartolo and Blanchard will be very interesting. Both boys are great runners who depend upon their drive more than their speed. And they both can toss passes and hold their own on the defense. You always have plenty interest in a game when two great players like that are on opposing teams.

But here we're presented with a situation where both elevens have great incentives going even beyond their colorful rivalry. Jesuit is out to retain its city and state championships with an unblemished record, and is finding the going pretty tough. Stanislaus wants the Gulf coast title, a perfect record, and perhaps a Toy Bowl invitation.

There you have the real factors which go to make this contest a genuine "natural." And there you have the real reason why some 15,000 fans will wend their way to City Park Stadium for the kickoff this afternoon.

There have been bigger crowds in prep football, to be sure, but never a more promising game.

PREP POTPOURRI

The prep program situation, we're happy to report, is vastly improved now . . . All numbers are correct, and only Peters, Fortier and Behrman don't tell the complete names of the boys . . . The prep race is more muddled than it's been in a long time . . . Lake Charles won the southwest district championship Friday night . . . Up in the north everything is messed up, what with the teams with the poorest records beating the top elevens . . . The two best games out of the city are McComb vs Greenville on November 14 and Bogalusa vs Istrouma on November 21 . . . One will decide the Big Eight championship, the other the Louisiana southeast champion . . . Because of previous postponements and all the talk they caused, The Times-Picayune was deluged with telephone calls Friday evening inquiring about the Easton-Aloysius game . . . Two incidents such as we had for the Easton-Peters and Peters - Nicholls games will make the fans dubious for the rest of the season as soon as a little rain falls . . . And don't think that's not hurting the crowds this year . . .

LONG LIVE LAKEVIEW

When Charley Guidry strolls from the library into the sports department, we know it is inevitable that he either (1) wants to borrow two bits; (2) is trying to bum a couple of football ducats, or (3) he's got another pat on the back for Lakeview.

It seems that Charles grew up in that section of the city, and he has never forgotten it. To us Lakeview is merely a long ride from downtown, but to Charley (and to the prep league, so his figures show) it's the cradle of local football.

"Out in Lakeview," Charles said in his best Chamber of Commerce style, "we develop 'em young. Why, we've supplied no less than 14 prep greats during the past eight years—and we're still going strong."

Well, it was pay day, and since this writer was busy seeking a place in his 13 pockets (with coat and two pairs of pants) to cram all of that soft green stuff, he had no time to silence the Lakeview Larruper.

Thus:

"We've had three sets of brothers to make good in the Prep League. There were the Rooneys—Jim and Bob—who starred at Jesuit, Loyola and West Point. Then we had the Coates boys, Ray and Ophine. Ray still carries the mail for the Blue Jays; his big brother was an Easton star. The Schultes made up our third family contingent, Jay being Jesuit's current tailback ace while Ott also was once a Blue Jay star."

Charley paused in his dissertation to help us gather a fistful of sawbucks which fluttered to the floor, and then he went on. "O. J. Key, the most publicized prepper last year, is still another Lakeview boy. Would you believe that he was once a sub for me on our neighborhood team?" We looked over Charley's almost-not-there physique, and said we couldn't believe it.

But he was undaunted. "Cy Kirsch was still another of our proteges. He was all-prep center last year, and now he's a freshman at Auburn (who isn't these days, what with Jack Meagher's Louisiana invasion last year when he nabbed nearly 10 preppers?)."

The clock showed three minutes to five by this time, and since Charley is off at five, he hurried the rest of his story into one quick sentence: "We have also turned out George Antonini of Jesuit, John Porter of Jesuit, Johnny Altobello and Jack Abrams of Easton and Billy Schroeder and Edmund Tooley of Peters, not to mention me."

That took a minute. Finishing, he dashed to the elevator. But a short while later he returned. "Say," he said, "I forgot to ask you: Can you loan me two-bits and slip me a couple of passes to the Stanislaus game?"

Rock-a-Chaws Capture Fifth Game in Row with 19-0 Win Over Picayune High Maroons

By CLINTON C. BLACKWELL
Sports Editor, The Daily Herald

Bay St. Louis, Oct. 25—A couple of adept running mates flashed on the scene here Friday night to share the offensive burden with Felix "Doc" Blanchard, sensational 205-pound fullback, as Coach Pete Burge's St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws breezed to an easy 19-0 victory over the Picayune High Maroons. It was the Rocks' fifth successive triumph, and their second in Class A regional competition.

Blanchard, a football package of dynamite with almost inexhaustible energy, was up to his usual form with power-driving explosions into the line, sharp-shooting aerials, rugged blocking and stellar defensive play. However, he was not alone in the offensive limelight as Hugh Kieffer and Dolph Schmidt came through with sparkling runs to aid the Rocks' in running up the three touchdowns and 22 first downs.

The victory was a bit easier than the three-touchdown margin would indicate. The Maroons could get nowhere until in the fourth quarter when the Johnston-to-Triplett passing combination generated their only scoring opportunities. Both chances went by the boards on downs, one on the three-yard stripe and the other at the ten-yard line. A touchdown pass during the latter challenge was erased by an offside.

KIEFFER SCORES FIRST

After one drive bogged down in the opening quarter, the Rocks' shifted into scoring motion in the second period with Kieffer lugging the ball over from the five-yard line.

Blanchard put the Maroons in the hole with a boot that sailed out of bounds on the six-yard line. Punting from behind his own goal line, Johnston kicked out to Kieffer who weaved his way 13 yeards to the Maroons' 22 before he was brought down.

Kieffer ripped off 14 yards on an off tackle slant and Blanchard hit the middle for three more. Then Kieffer knifed his way over the goal line on another off tackle play to the right. Blanchard's attempted conversion from placement went wide.

That ended the Rocks' scoring in the first half but they got going again in the third quarter. One drive carried 73 yards before a fumble ended it on Picayune's 3. However, it was just a delay as the Rocks took over again on a punt on the Maroons' 44 and six plays later Blanchard crashed through the line for a touchdown.

The drive went like this: Blanchard passed to J. T. Prosser for eight yards; Blanchard picked up a first down on the 32; Kieffer, on a reverse, went to Picayune's 18; Schmidt and Blanchard cooperated in two plays to put the ball on the three-yard line, and then Felix went over. Blanchard kicked the extra point from placement.

ROCKS MOVE ALONG

Stanislaus' final touchdown parade was inaugurated late in the third period and carried over into the fourth. Gaining possession of the ball on their 28, the Rocks marched straight down the field. After Blanchard gained five yards, Schmidt went over left tackle to the 44. "Red" O'Connor gained ten yards and Blanchard got loose for 32 yards before being forced out of bounds on Picayune's 14 as the period ended.

Prosser, as good an all-round end as any coach would desire, advanced to the two-yard line on an end-around and Blanchard had no trouble getting across on the next play.

It was after this score that the Maroons displayed their best offensive weapons of the game. Getting the ball on the midfield stripe when Sansing recovered a fumble, the Maroons advanced to Stanislaus' three-yard line before two passes fell incomplete and the ball went over on downs.

After a punt out and a 19-yard return by Johnston, the Maroons started again from the Rocks' 22. But this challenge faded out on the ten-yard line where the Picayune passing attack missed its mark.

The Rocks had driven past midfield as the game ended.

With Blanchard, Kieffer and Schmidt attending to most of the offensive work, Prosser was easily the outstanding man in the line for Stanislaus. He was all over the field, offensively and defensively. Holcomb's play at left guard was a bright light for the Maroons.

St. Stanislaus Beats Picayune by 19 to 0 Score

(Special to The Times-Picayune)

Bay St. Louis, Miss., Oct. 25.—A fighting Rockachaws team held to one touchdown in the first half, came back to score two more in the second to down the Picayune Maroon Tide here Friday night, 19 to 0.

Twenty-one first downs to five tells part of the story. For three quarters the Rocks dominated the field, but Doby Holden's charges refused to give up and in the closing minutes of the final quarter were knocking at the gate with a succession of clever passes that twice brought them within the 10-yard line.

First Quarter — Stanislaus received, Blanchard reeled off two gains for first down, then Prosser made seven and Schmidt added five for another first down, a pass, Blanchard to Burwood, netted 12 yards, but a fumble gave the ball to Picayune on their own 45. A bad pass lost 20 yards and Picayune quick-kicked to the Stanislaus 28. Short runs by Schmidt with two passes, Blanchard to Prosser, again threatened to score, but after a penalty Blanchard punted out of bounds on the six, as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter—Picayune lost six yards on the first play and then punted to the 35. Kieffer brought it back to the 21. Keiffer tore off tackle for 12 yards to the Picayune nine, Blanchard smashed center for four yards and then led Keiffer through the same hole for a touchdown. The conversion failed.

At the half Stanislaus had registered seven first downs to none for Picayune.

Third Quarter—Blanchard kicked out of bounds and Picayune took the ball on their own 35. A run over their left end tallied their first first down. They punted after being thrown for a loss of seven. Then the Rock-a-Chaws started to function. On the first play Schmidt ran through the line for 25 yards. Prosser added four, then Blanchard drove over tackle into the clear and was hauled down only after a 27-yard gain. With the ball on the Picayune 29, Blanchard added 19 more, then Keifer made five, but the Rocks fumbled on the four-yard line. Picayune kicked out to the 45. Blanchard passed to Prosser for eight yards and Keiter tore off 17 bringing the ball to the Picayune 18. Schmidt got three and Blanchard smashed through right tackle for 15 yards and the second touchdown. The conversion was good. Stanislaus 13, Picayune 0.

The Picayune passing attack began to work and two successive seven-yard passes gave another first down but the Maroons were forced to kick. Schmidt and Blanchard alternated for short gains and then Red O'Connor on a reverse carried the pigskin for 11 yards. Blanchard shook loose again for his longest run of the game, 39 yards, to Picayune's 14.

Fourth Quarter — Prosser started the quarter with a gain of 11 around right end placing the ball on the six-yard stripe, where Blanchard lugged it over for the final touchdown. Attempted kick failed. Stanislaus 19, Picayune 0. Blanchard again kicked out of bounds. Picayune attempted a pass but Keiffer snared it on the 39-yard line. Stanislaus started another drive but Freeman fumbled on the midfield stripe and Picayune started their first serious drive of the game. Johnson, who was the outstanding man for Holden's team, alternated running and passing and in four plays had the Rocks backed to their goal line with the ball on the two-yard mark. Three attempted passes nett nothing and Blanchard kicked out to th 45.

Passing again brought the ball to th Satnislaus 10 but the Maroon Tide ebb there and lost final possession.

Breerwood and O'Connor helped Schm and Prosser to run the ball up to Picayune 30, when the whistle ended game. Stanislaus 19, Picayune 0.

HE RETURNS—When St. Aloysius plays host to St. Stanislaus Friday night, the most feared man in the Rockachaw lineup will be hefty, triple-threat "Doc" Blanchard. He led the Rocks to a win over Catholic High last week.

'Doc' Blanchard to Tangle With John Campora in Duel in Aloysius-Stanislaus Tilt

Both Boys Are Standout Triple-Threats on Their Teams; Meet in Game Friday Night Here

"Doc" Blanchard vs Johnny Campora!

There's a duel which could draw football fans away from their best girls, their favorite movie houses, or their most interesting books.

And it probably will Friday night when St. Aloysius' Crusaders play host to the St. Stanislaus Rockachaws beneath the lights of massive City Park Stadium. After all, those two boys rank among the most sensational individual high school stars in these parts.

Just consider, for example, what they did in their season openers: Campora scored on the last play of the game to beat Moss Point Friday night. And Blanchard led the Rocks almost single-handed to a debut win over Catholic High last week-end.

Last year these two boys were the big stars of their respective teams. This year they're back in the lineups again—only, now they have another full year of experience. That gives you an idea of the sensational brand of ball to expect Friday night. Superlative adjectives don't do the expectations justice.

Stanislaus has four starters returning from last year's team. In addition to Blanchard, they are J. T. Prosser, 155-pound end; Harold Zimmerman, 190-pound tackle; and Elmer Breerwood, 150-pound quarterback (a New Orleans boy). It'll be around these veterans that the team will be built.

But there are some reserves up from last year. They are John O'Donahue at guard, John Funk at tackle, Hugh Kiefer at left half and Adolph Schmidt at right half. Blanchard is a fullback.

That leaves three newcomers to round out the starting team. They are Cliff Carnes, center; Lawrence Liviccari, guard, and Henry Reynolds, end.

Against this team Aloysius will pit its hopes for a second interstate victory.

CAMPORA BEST FOR CRUSADER TEAM IN GAME

Locals Are Stopped on All Sides in Interstate Clash

By Stanford Opotowsky

St. Stanislaus power was too much for St. Aloysius to cope with Sunday afternoon at City Park Stadium. Despite some beautiful playing by Johnny Campora, the Crusaders were stopped cold every time they sought to make a move, and thus they were 14-0 losers to Pete Burge's Rockachaws.

The sensational "Doc" Blanchard not only lived up to his advance notices in this game, he exceeded them. He executed the major part of the steamroller Rock scoring machine.

NICHOLLS VS PETERS

The Nicholls Rebels and the Peters Wildcats will meet tonight at City Park Stadium in their game which was postponed from last Thursday. Both teams are undefeated.

The Crusaders—especially Campora—played gamely. But they could get nowhere through the Rock line. And when they resorted to passes they also found themselves in hot water. Interceptions played a major role in the ball game.

Chetta Does Well

Besides Campora, Anthony Chetta also looked very good for Aloysius. Hugh Kiefer was Blanchard's running mate, and one of the highlights of the game was Kiefer's 48-yard punt return for the second Stanislaus touchdown in the third period.

It seemed that Aloysius' best playing came at inopportune moments. Many Crusader drives were equal to those of the Rocks in yardage, but they were halted before any scores. The first down count was 11-all.

The Crusaders looked like they were going to score right off the bat in the first period when Chetta intercepted Blanchard's pass on the 50 and six plays later the Crimsons had a first down on the Stanislaus 20. But then Campora fumbled and Reynolds recovered to end that march.

From there the Rocks drove clean down to the Aloysius seven (thanks principally to runs of 24 and 16 yards by Blanchard), but again a fumble halted the march. Campora recovered the "Doc's" bobble on the Crusad three.

Score in Second

It was in the second per the Rockachaws grabbed o lead. Kiefer intercepted C ra's pass on the Stanislaus 32, er two line plays Blanchard eraled to Breerwood, and Bree wood faded back and tossed a long one to Reynolds for 26 yards and a first down on the Aloysius 35. After a penalty, Blanchard passed to Prosser for 32 yards and another first down. This time the ball was brought to the eight. Three line bucks advanced the Rocks six yards, and then Blanchard dove over the goal from the two.

"Doc's" placement converted the extra point, making the score 7-0. And that's the way it stood at the end of the half.

The Rocks scored their second touchdown early in the third period. Blanchard punted beautifully out of bounds on the Aloysius eight, and after three line plays the Crusaders were on their 14 with last down. So Campora punted.

His boot was taken in by Kiefer on the Crusader 48, and from there the Rock safety man started a beautiful jaunt down the right side line. Shaking off and side-stepping would-be tacklers from all sides, he dashed into the end zone. For the second time Blanchard's placement split the goal posts, converting the extra point.

The Rocks nearly scored in the fourth period when they marched steadily from their 26 to the Aloysius six, but with a touchdown in sight Blanchard's pass was intercepted by Campora.

ROCKS JOURNEY TO BATON ROUGE FOR FIRST TILT

Locals in Top Shape to Meet Opponents.

Tomorrow the Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will journey to Baton Rouge to engage in one of the most important games of the season. This is the third time that the Rocks open up in Baton Rouge. Coach Ralph Springer has gathered a well trained aggregation, and the Rocks will know they are in a football game from the very first whistle.

This year the Catholic High Bears have an extra heavy team. Their line averages 190 pounds although their backfield is rather light, averaging 155 pounds. The locals average 175 pounds on the line and 160 pounds in the backfield.

Almost every game with the Bears seems to have a bit of the freakish about it. In the first game played three years ago, the teams seesawed back and fourth over the field, but at the end the Rocks just nosed out a victory. Last year the Rocks romped all over Catholic High for the first three periods of the game. But in the last six minutes of the game, the Bears rallied and in a short period of time had two touchdowns and a field goal, ending the game in their favor by a score of 16-13. The Rocks are looking for revenge this year, and will brook no interference. However, Coach Springer has a wealth of tricky plays and the locals will have to keep on their t [illegible] the duration of the game.

Rocks to Leave Today for Game With Catholics

(Special to The Times-Picayune)

Bay St. Louis, Sept. 19.—Athletic Director Brother Felician accompanied by Coaches Pete Burge and Brother Adalbert will leave at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Baton Rouge to open the Rockachaw season with Catholic High school.

The following 27 players will make the trip and most of them should see action at Louisiana State stadium Sunday afternoon. The game is to be called at 2 o'clock:

Rocks Win Over Catholic High as Blanchard Stars

There were no complaints around the Stanislaus campus today as the Rock-a-Chaws returned home from Baton Rouge where they opened their 1941 football campaign with a 21-6 victory over the Catholic High Bears Sunday afternoon.

The Bears spoiled the Rocks' start last fall and yesterday's triumph served to even up the balance sheet. The hero of the game was Felix "Doc" Blanchard, some 190 pounds of power operating from the fullback position on the Rocks' side of the line.

With Blanchard as the impetus, Stanislaus got to rolling late in the first quarter and got their first touchdown, added their second early in the second period and then tallied again in the third quarter. Blanchard scored the first and third touchdowns on line plunges, set up the second and booted all three placements for 15 of his squad's points.

Catholic High, after muffing three scoring drives, two in the first half and a third in the third quarter following penetrations to the six-yard line on first down each trip, finally clicked for an 80-yard march late in the last period, Seymour Losavio tossing a 10-yard pass to Leclerco Bozeman for the tally.

Stanislaus, while a bit slow, still had far too much weight and power for the Bears. Their line appeared every bit as big as the state champion Jesuit Jays' last year, and their Blanchard was an entire offense in himself. The Rockachaws didn't try many passes, because they didn't have to, but when forced to kick. Blanchard proved a first-class punter. He also backed up the line on defense, figuring in just about every play of the game, offensively and defensively.

Blanchard Leads Stanislaus Team to 21-6 Victory

(Special to The Times-Picayune)

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 21.—Powered by that daring young fullback, Felix "Doc" Blanchard, the St. Stanislaus Rockachaws rolled over their rival Catholic High Bears this afternoon in Tiger Stadium by a 21-6 score. It was the most decisive margin yet established by either team in their usually very close-fought modern series.

With Blanchard as the impetus, Stanislaus got to rolling late in the first quarter and got their first touchdown, added their second early in the second period and then tallied again in the third quarter. Blanchard scored the first and third touchdowns on line plunges, set up the second and booted all three placements for 15 of his squad's points.

CATHOLIC HIGH, STANISLAUS IN BATTLE TODAY

Istrouma's Invasion of N. O. Highlights Week's Program

By W. I. Spencer

(Special to The Times-Picayune)

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 20.—Catholic High's Golden Bears renew their warm rivalry with St. Stanislaus here today on the gridiron of Tiger Stadium.

Coach Ralph Springer's lads will play host to the Rockachaws in this renewal of their series, and the invasion, to be led by triple-threat Doc Blanchard, figures to produce a mighty interesting game.

St. Stanislaus Grid Squad Preps for Catholic Hi Tilt

(Special to The Times-Picayune)

Bay St. Louis, Miss., Sept. 18.—Coach Burge is putting the finishing touches on the St. Stanislaus Rockachaws to prep them for the opening game of the season Sunday. The Rockachaws meet the Catholic High Golden Bears in L. S. U's stadium at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. This is the third encounter between these teams in as many years. The count stands one each now. Two years ago St. Stanislaus eked out a 7-to-6 victory, and last year the Bears won, 16 to 13, in a hair-raising finish.

The Rockachaws have a nine-game schedule, of which five of the games are away from here. New Orleans football fans will see the Rocks October 3 with St. Aloysius and November 2 with the Jesuits. The other two away-from-home games are with Moss Point and Pascagoula.

At St. Stanislaus stadium, Donaldsonville Catholic High, Picayune, Lyon High and Gulf Coast Military academy will satisfy the home fans.

With seven lettermen, Pete Burge has a job to build a representative Stanislaus team. Elmer Breerwood, blocking back, shows promise as a passer this year. Adolph Schmidt, right half, is light but fast, and is a mainstay on defense. He is a most probable starter Sunday. Clifford O'Connor is crowding him for the position. Anthony "Doc" Blanchard at fullback will probably do a good deal of the punting, passing and line-backing. He was outstanding last year until handicapped by injuries. Harold Zimmerman seems sure to hold his berth at left tackle. Rugged on defense, he should be more valuable than ever.

O'Donohoe Pressed

Jimmy O'Donohoe looks like a starter at left guard, but Mike Mitchell is pushing him for the job. O'Donohoe's experience of last year may give him the nod for the opening game. J. T. Prosser, veteran left end, should be outstanding with two years' experience tucked under his belt. John Funk, right tackle, saw some action last year, and is determined to clinch the position this year.

Henry Reynolds at right end is a rangy boy and gives promise of being a good pass receiver. Lawrence Livacarri should hold right guard in the opening game. He is chunky and should be good on defense. Kenny Carnes is new at center, but is a hustler and should improve.

The above is probably Sunday's lineup.

Coach Burge has a capable squad of reserves from present appearance.

At right end Arthur Richardson and Ed Zimmerman from the junior squad are battling with Henry Reynolds for a berth.

At left end the most likely man is Ed Murtagh. He is light, but is a good pass receiver and should see plenty of action.

Kenney, Caire Hustle

At right tackle Bill Kenney and Joe Caire, both up from the juniors, are hard workers and should see action in some of the games.

At left tackle Eddie Koch and Kenneth McAuliffe have little experience but are ready for action.

Three left guards—Oscar Pacheco, Jean Benoit and Leslie Scales—are light but show p of promise.

At right half Clifford O'Conn a reformed end, will be able spell Schmidt, and Dan Ev last year's junior team halfb is close behind.

At fullback Billy Waters is handicapped by a pulled mu He also shows promise.

At blocking back Peyton W ters and Joe Cimo, both up fro the junior squad, will have t hustle.

Panthers, Rocks To Meet Friday At Pascagoula

St. Stanislaus' undefeated-untied Rock-a-Chaws invade the Pascagoula High Panthers' home field Friday afternoon for a Class A Gulf Coast Regional football game, scheduled for 2:30 o'clock.

Coach Pete Burge's invading outfit will be seeking victory No. 7. The Rocks extended their winning streak last Sunday at the expense of the erstwhile unbeaten Jesuit Blue Jays in New Orleans, 7-6.

The Panthers, after being in reverse for most of the season, got moving forward again in their last outing at the expense of Mt. Olive High of the Southeast Region, 18-0. However, the Rocks are a far more formidable ball club than the upstaters.

BURGE UNDERTAKES COACHING POSITION FOR THIRD SESSION

Brother Adalbert Handles Assistant Coaching

Coach Dennis "Pete" Burge is beginning his third session as member of the Rock-A-Chaws. Coach Burge handles the coaching assignment for football, basketball and track. In football he is ably assisted by Brother Adalbert who handles the line.

In his former seasons here Coach Burge has shown his worth as a coach. Although his seasons were not entirely successful this can be blamed on a lack of experienced players and not to say fault in the coaching.

Brother Adalbert the assistant coach, has been coaching the line for three years. He coached one year under Coach Morton and other two years under our present coach. Brother has, with the material given him, turned out a very remarkable line.

It has been proven that Brother Adalbert is a good line director when he coached the Toy Bowl Team of '39.

Coach Burge and Brother Adalbert will try, with the greatest of their ability to shape a team that will be remembered by the students of St. Stanislaus for years to come.

Blanchard Leads Rocks to Triumph Over Moss Point In Class A Regional Game

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws of Bay St. Louis continued their winning march and, at the same time, rung up their initial victory of the season in the Gulf Coast Regional circles, by defeating the Moss Point Tigers, 27 to 7, in one of the finest games ever to be played on the Moss Point gridiron before a large crowd Friday night. It was Stanislaus' fourth straight victory.

Paced by Felix "Doc" Blanchard, 200-pound driving fullback, the Rock-a-Chaws scored in every period with the exception of the third, while the Tigers registered their lone marker in the initial period when J. D. Faggard, star terminal took one of Paul "Toots" Stauter's aerials in midfield and raced the remaining 50 yards to score standing up. The play started on the Tigers own 33-yard line. Robert's placement split the uprights for the extra point.

Featuring Blanchard in practically every play of the game, the mighty Rock-a-Chaws, who outweighed the Tigers considerably, rolled to their first two touchdowns in the opening half.

ROCKS GET GOING

The Tigers were fighting with their backs to the wall in the first few minutes of the game, following a fumble by Evans on the Tiger 23 which was covered by Blanchard. Although holding the Rock-a-Chaws and taking the ball on their own 10-yard line, it was short lived as the Rock-a-Chaws took over a few minutes later on the Tigers 48-yard line. With Blanchard carrying the mail on every play with the exception of a yard picked up by Prosser, the Rocks went down to the three-yard line from where Blanchard scored and then kicked the extra point from placement.

The Rock-a-Chaws took advantage of a short kick in the second period to score again. Tiny Wells, Moss Point quarterback, kicking from his own 20-yard line, rolled one out of bounds on his own 32. In six plays Blanchard drove over tackle from the five-yard line to score. In crossing the goal line he was charging so hard he knocked Evans down at least five yards back of the goal line. Blanchard again made his placement good for the extra point.

Coach Pete Burge's Rock-a-Chaws, who played heads up football all the way, scored their third touchdown on a 50-yard drive, with Blanchard again going over, this time from the 6-yard stripe. The play was set in motion when Keifer, star back in his own right, intercepted one of Stauter's passes in midfield and ran down to the Tigers' 25-yard line before he was pulled down. In four plays, with Blanchard carrying every time with the exception of a 9-yard gain by Keifer on a fake spinner, the star fullback drove over for the touchdown. Blanchard's placement for the extra point went wide.

DRIVE BOGS DOWN

Moss Point went all out as the second half opened and drove to the Rock-a-Chaws 22-yard line, only for the offense to bog down, the ball going over after Roberts had missed a pass from Stauter in the end zone.

Taking the ball on their own 22-yard line, the Rock-a-Chaws, with Blanchard picking up the necessary yardage for first downs, marched 78 yards for their final score. Blanchard went over tackle from the five-yard line. His placement was good. Schmidt and Keifer set up several of the first downs for "Doc", with neat runs off tackle and around the ends on fake spinners that had the Tigers fooled the greater part of the night.

Remembering last year when a Tiger back ran a kick off back for a touchdown, Blanchard placed every kick out of bounds after they had registered their second touchdown of the night.

Although the play of Blanchard was so much above the rest of the squad, Adolph, Dick Freeman, and Harold Keifer turned in some fine running, while the work of Harold Zimmerman, left tackle, and J. T. Prosser, end, was as good in the line.

Stanislaus Wins Easily over Lyon To Protect Slate

Coach Pete Burge's St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws moved another step nearer an undefeated-untied season, and a possible bowl invite, Saturday when they crushed Lyon High of Covington, 48 to 12.

Felix "Doc" Blanchard, hard driving fullback, and Hugh Keifer, fast-stepping halfback, paced the Rocks' powerful offensive attack, which had the Louisiana boys completely outclassed.

The longest run of the afternoon was turned in by Keifer when he intercepted a Lyon High pass on his own 45-yard line and weaved his way 55 yards for a touchdown. His other two touchdowns were made on two 15-yard sprints around right end.

One of Blanchard's two touchdowns came as the result of a pass interception, Doc galloping 20 yards for the score.

Breerwood plunged from the three. Blanchard went through center for about 25 yards, and Ed Murtagh was on the receiving end of a six-yard pass from Freeman to account for the other markers.

Blanchard kicked five for six from placement and Elmer Breerwood plunged for the other two conversions.

Both of Lyon High's scores came in the fourth quarter against St. Stanislaus' second and third teams. B. Chatellier and L. J. Parker were on the receiving end of Galloway's two passes of 25 and 35 yards, respectively.

The first downs favored St

CATHOLIC HIGH BOWS TO ROCKS IN HOME COMER

Donaldsonville Team Outclassed by Local Gridders.

Playing before a large crowd of enthusiastic Homecoming fans the Rock-A-Chaws of Stanislaus made debut before home fans by out-playing the hard-fighting boys from Catholic Hi of Donaldsonville.

Making good use of a polished aerial attack the Rocks scored almost at will. The Catholic Hi team never once stopped their valiant fight. However, a number of well executed pass plays, mixed in with the powerful Rock running attack led by "Doc" Blanchard, had these boys on their heels all evening.

Early in the first period the Rocks scored their initial touchdown on a pass from Kiefer to Prosser. After a lapse of three minutes. Prosser on an end around end galloped 80 yards for another tally. Blanchard converted after both touchdowns. The remainder of the half finished without further action from either side.

In the third quarter the Rocks wore down their opponents, blasting their way across their oppenents' goal line three times. The powerhouse of the Rock-A-Chaws, Doc Blanchard, accounted for all the tallies of this period. "Doc" made his three touchdowns on runs of 30, 11, and 40 yards respectively. "Doc" also accounted for two extra points.

In the last period there wasn't a great deal of action but the Rocks were able to score once more. This came when Dick Freeman trotted thirty yards for the final tally for the Red and Black team. The try for the extra point by Arthur Richardson crossed the uprights making the score 41-0.

The lone tally for the visitors came when Felix Trapani, captain, of the Catholic Hi team, returned a punt for fifty yards.

The outstanding players for the visitors were Felix Trapani, B. Landry, Ray Oschwald, and Ray Picou. The standouts for the home team were Blanchard, Adolph Schmidt, J. T. Prosser, Harold Zimmerman, and Elmer Breerwood.

ROCKS CONQUER STRONG CRUSADER TEAM DECISIVELY

Team Which Tied Jesuits Fails to Tally Against Rocks.

On October 5, St. Stanislaus took the field for the second time to meet the St. Aloysius Crusaders, reputedly one of the strongest teams in New Orleans. The Rocks were greatly out-weighed but perhaps a bit faster than their opponents.

In the first quarter St. Aloysius received the opening kickoff and began a march that looked bad for the Rocks. The march was finally stopped when Aloysius fumbled on the Stanislaus 15-yard line where Henry Reynolds recovered to halt what looked like an almost inevitable score. The Rocks then having the ball, began their offensive which carried them to the Crusaders five yard line where once again a pay-dirt march was ended by poor ball handling. The ball, then in possesion of the Crusaders, was carried for short gains and finally kicked.

The opening of the second quarter found the Rocks in posession of the ball and once again headed for the uprights. This time the New Orleans boys failed to hold and Blanchard plunged through the line for the first score of the game. The conversion by "Doc" was good, bringing the score to 7-0. Late in the second period the Rocks again threatened but failed to tally. The half ended with the Red and Black team having a slight margin.

Aloysius again chose to receive in the opening of the second half bnt was held and forced to kick again. The ball changed hands several times before late in the third period, Aloysius kicked from their own 2 and Kiefer of the Rocks received it on his own 40, where he began a long touchdown jaunt. He weaved his way down the field with magnificient blocking and crossed the goal standing. The extra point ended the scoring activities for the day.

Again the Rocks threatened but failed that final push.

The last quarter was packed with action but no scores were made. The games ended with the score 14 to 0 in favor of the Rocks.

PICAYUNE NEXT OPPONENTS.

Next Friday, October 24 the Rock-A-Chaw eleven will encounter the strong Picayune team in the second home game of the season. The game can be expected to be one of the outstanding coast games of the season.

MOSS POINT IS FOURTH VICTIM OF ROCKS' POWER

Blanchard Scores All 27 Points to Lead Rock Attack

Last night the Rocks emerged victorious in the fourth victory of the year, the third in two weeks. The three of which were St. Aloysius, Catholic Hi, and Moss Point.

In last night's tilt the Red and Black team journeyed to the home town of the Moss Point Tigers to defeat them by the humiliating score of 27-7.

Though the score did not show it, this game furnished much excitement for those who were present. In the first period the Stanislaus boys opened with a bang, scoring in the first few minutes of play, however, that was only the beginning of the excitement; several moments later the Moss Pointers also crossed the white stripe making the score 7-7 at the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter the Roc power proved to be too much for th opponents. Blanchard accounted fo two tallies in this period and one extra point.

Except for the final tally by Blanchard in the final quarter, the scoring activities for the evening were ended. At the final whistle the score remained 27-7.

Though the Moss Pointers were extremely fast and tricky, the Rocks out-did them in fine defense playing combined with extraordinary fine offensive playing. In this game the Rocks displayed their passing ability completing five out of six passes. The Rock-A-Chaws passing-defense also proved to be outstanding blocking four out of five passes.

Blanchard in Familiar Role As Hero of Rocks' Victory

By BILL DENNIS

Pascagoula, Nov. 8—Scoring two touchdowns in the first ten minutes of play, a heavy St. Stanislaus eleven yesterday afternoon blanked out the Pascagoula Panthers 39-0 at the high school stadium here.

Practically all of the game was played in Panther territory, with a Stanislaus lad named Felix "Doc" Blanchard stealing the show. Blanchard made five of the six tallies, and kicked three extra points.

Grabbing the pigskin on the neutral stripe as soon as the starting signal made it legal, Kiefer, Stanislaus halfback, neatly sidestepped a pack of Panthers, his dance ending on Pascagoula's 27. Here Fullback Blanchard took over, plowing into the end zone for the marker. Blanchard's placekick paid off.

Losing little time in recovering the ball after letting the Panthermen feel it, Schmidt of Stanislaus carried it from middleground to Pascagoula's 31, then gained another ten yards through the line. Kiefer took a hunk out of the line to gain eight more yards. Blanchard again came into the spotlight to tote the ball a mere two yards. Obviously disappointed in his results, Blanchard gave a great surge which terminated in the end zone.

Blanchard placekicked, with the ball striking the inside of the left goal post. It hesitated for a second, then resumed the course the kicker had planned for it, adding another point to Stanislaus' bulging section of the scoreboard.

ROCKS KEEP MOVING

Taking the ball again on Pascagoula's 48, where it landed after the Panthers' fourth-down kick, Kiefer made unimportant progress. Prosser tried an end run, but netted no gain. Breerwood attempted a pass to Prosser, but the ball must have been greasy. Planted firmly on the enemy 40, Breerwood tossed a 19-yard pass into Kiefer's hands on the 21. But Kiefer fumbled. Blanchard made a pretty gain through the line, and Schmidt delivered to the Panther 11-yard marker. Blanchard gained another eight yards, and Schmidt deposited the ball only a few inches from the goal line as the quarter ended.

On the next play, Schmidt went over on a reverse from Blanchard. Blanchard's kick was worthless.

Then they let the Panthers play with the ball for a bit, with Clark receiving the ball, fumbling, and recovering on his own 20. B. Daggett completed a neat pass to Jimmie Daggett for a 20-yard gain, but then the Stanislaus lads came out of their coma. Kiefer intercepted a pass from B. Daggett on Pascagoula's 44. Freeman made a four-yard gain. Maestro Blanchard took charge on a fake reverse, dashing a full 42 yards for the touchdown. His kick failed again.

Politely waiting at least two minutes of play before confiscating the ball again, the Stanislaus gents claimed the battered pigskin on their own 47. O'Connor gained 10 on a reverse play, but his team was penalized 15 yards for holding. On the next play, he shouldered his way to Pascagoula's 47. He then toted to the enemy 10, where he was hit hard by Jimmie Daggett. The ensuing play netted Stanislaus two yards and cost the Panthers a good man.

M. Penton was knocked out cold, and a physician reported he had suffered at least one rib fracture.

BLANCHARD AGAIN

Surprising the bleachers and his opponents with a fumble, Blanchard was thrown for a four-yard loss. O'Connor regained the lost soil on a reverse, re-setting the stage for Blanchard's scoring plunge over left tackle.

Blanchard's placement soared sadly to the left of the uprights, and was ignored by the score keeper.

Slowing their pace from a mad charge to a creeping shuffle, Stanislaus' had to punt for the first time early in the third quarter. Finally regaining the ball on the enemy 34, Prosser made a 13-yard dash before he was cut down. His team was penalized 15 yards for holding.

Blanchard passed from the 36 to O'Connor at the goal line, but O'Connor fumbled. Blanchard made the tally with an end run. This time, his plea for the extra point was effective.

They played another quarter and a half of football, but nobody scored, and nobody had much fun. So, to quote a dankish ditty, "We won't talk about that!"

Stanislaus Beats Donaldsonville in Home-coming Game

Coach Pete Burge's St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws scored their third successive victory of the season Sunday afternoon when they turned back the Catholic High gridsters of Donaldsonville, La., 41 to 6. The game, played at Stanislaus stadium in Bay St. Louis, was a feature of the annual Rock-a-Chaw Home-coming day celebration.

The Rocks, one of two unbeaten-untied Class A teams left on the Coast, scored in the first five minutes and it was all-Stanislaus from there out. The initial drive culminated in a 15-yard pass, Keiffer to Prosser. A few moments later Prosser raced 80 yards for the Rocks' second touchdown.

After a scoreless second quarter, the Rocks turned on the pressure in the third with Felix "Doc" Blanchard, power-driving fullback, leading the way. Three touchdowns were registered during the period and Blanchard accounted for all of them on runs of 30, 11 and 42 yards, respectively.

Freeman, a Stanislaus substitute, dashed 42 yards for a score in the fourth canto.

The Rock-a-Chaws make their first showing of the season in the Gulf Coast Regional circle next Friday night with an invasion of Moss Point.

Cadets vs Stanislaus Today

Cadets, Rock-a-Chaws Meet Saturday in Bay St. Louis In Annual Football Battle

By CLINTON C. BLACKWELL

Two of the Mississippi Coast's top-flight gridiron machines—the Gulf Coast Military Academy Cadets and St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws—clash headon Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'colck on the Stanislaus Stadium turf in Bay St. Louis.

As the rivals went through closing workouts today, nothing had developed to alter the situation and the Rock-a-Chaws, undefeated and untied in eight games, remained favorites to close their regular season schedule with a victory.

The Rocks want this ball game for three reasons. Other than protecting their clean slate, Coach Pete Burge's boys have receptive ears tuned on the New Orleans Toy Bowl committee, and also vividly recall last year's stunning 34-20 defeat the Cadets engineered, spoiling an otherwise perfect season.

The Cadets have their reasons, too. This annual melee with the Rocks means a lot to Coach Carl Maddox's crew and they will be gunning for victory. Also they have experienced more than a fair season themselves, going into tomorrow's game with a record of six victories, two defeats and one tie against some of the top teams in Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama. Another credit mark on the victory side of the ledger at the expense of an unbeaten opponent will not do any harm.

Stanislaus will field practically an all-senior team, nine of the starting Rocks playing their final game before home fans. Included in this group is Felix "Doc" Blanchard, sensational fullback who is the kingpin of the Rock-a-Chaws' attack.

Blanchard has sparked the Rocks all season, attending to most of the scoring and handling his chores well on defense. However, Coach Burge has some more backs who can go too, including Hugh Keifer and Adolph Schmidt.

The Cadets have some flashy backs also in Billy Doran and Bowman Starnes, hard charging fullbacks, and Billy (Little Butch) Wilson and Charlie Black, halfbacks. It was the latter youngster who led GCMA to victory in the 1940 renewal. Starnes, however, may not get into action as he has been nursing a cold all week.

J. T. Prosser will be at left end for the Rocks with Harold Zimmerman left tackle, James O'Donohoe left guard, Kennedy Carnes center, Lawrence Livaccari right guard, John Funk right tackle, and Ed Zimmerman right end. The backfield unit will be selected from Blanchard, Keifer, Schmidt, Elmer Breerwood and Clifford O'Connor, all seniors.

The Rock-a-Chaws are reported in the pink of condition with the roster free of injuries.

A parade, sponsored by the Stanislaus Sidelines Club, starts at 1:30 and the line of march will be from the Bay St. Louis business district to the stadium.

Adding color to the GCMA side of the field will be the presence of the Cadet battalion and band.

Three of the officials selected for the game are Dutch Luchschinger referee, Robert Morris umpire, and Larry Lashley headlinesman. The field judge was unannounced.

Rivals to Meet On Rocks' Grid; Kickoff at 2:30

Football interest on the Mississippi Coast shifted to Bay St. Louis today where the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws and Gulf Coast Military Academy Cadets await the kickoff of their annual football classic at 2:30 o'clock.

The game suddenly took on even more importance, especially for Coach Pete Burge's undefeated-untied Rocks, following last night's defeat of the Bogalusa Lumberjacks by Istrouma High.

Should the Rocks hurdle the Cadets, they would be in a fine spot to be selected to engage the McComb High Tigers, Big Eight Conference champions, in the annual New Orleans Toy Bowl.

The largest crowd of the season is expected to be at Stanislaus Stadium for the kickoff. A downtown parade is set for 1:30 p.m. by the Stanislaus Sidelines Club with the line of march to the field.

The GCMA battalion also is slated to attend, in addition to a large number of Cadet fans from the Gulfport and Biloxi area.

Both teams went through their final rehearsals yesterday and are reported primed for the engagement. The Rocks are in fine physical condition, according to reports from their camp, while the Cadets have a couple of ailing members, who may or may not see any action.

The game is expected to generate into an offensive affair as the Rocks and Cadets are loaded down with dangerous ball carriers. There is Felix "Doc" Blanchard, Hugh Keifer, Adolph Schmidt and others in the Stanislaus contingent, while GCMA boasts Charlie Black, Billy Doran, Billy (Little Butch) Wilson, and Bowman Starnes.

This will close the Rocks' regular season, while the Cadets have still a game with McGill to be played next week.

Rocks Undefeated And Untied, Eye Post-Season Bid

The high school football program on the Mississippi Coast will be brought to a climax Saturday afternoon when the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws and Gulf Coast Military Academy Cadets meet in their annual classic at Stanislaus Stadium in Bay St. Louis.

This game rivals in interest the 27th annual Biloxi-Gulfport battle, scheduled at the Gulfport Fair Grounds this afternoon.

The Rock-a-Chaws will go into the fray undefeated and untied, and hopeful of landing a post-season invitation — possibly New Orleans' Toy Bowl or Jackson's Lions Bowl—providing they successfully get past the Cadets.

However, that's the catch. Although favored to come through on the long side, the Rocks are expected to encounter their stiffest test of the campaign. The Cadets blasted an undefeated season for the Bay boys last year, 34-20, and are determined to do just that again.

Both teams took things easy in practice today after getting past the harder phases of conditioning earlier in the week. At GCMA, Coach Carl Maddox had five boys on the sidelines during the rough work but all, except probably Joe "Red" Hollingsworth, veteran left end, are expected to be ready to see service. Hollingsworth acquired a "charley-horse" in the Woodlawn game a couple of weeks ago and it has been around since.

Others sitting out the scrimmages were Mike "Governor" Harris, big right guard, Otis McKinney, right tackle, Harold Ellington, tackle, and Kert Bender, right end. They were bruised up in the Cadets' victory over Jackson High of the Big Eight Conference last Saturday.

Coach Maddox, like Coach Pete Burge at Stanislaus, has not announced his probable starting lineup.

The game will mark the final appearance of Stanislaus' sensational Felix "Doc" Blanchard on his home field. And Blanchard is one of the main cogs upon whom the Rocks are pinning their hopes of coming through unscratched.

This hard-driving fullback has played standout ball all season and is a strong contender for mythical all-southern recognition.

One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to be on hand. Accompanying the GCMA team will be the Cadet battalion.

TROOPS TAKING OVER DUTCH G

M'COMB AND ST. STANISLAUS FOR TOY GAME

Undefeated Elevens from Mississippi to Battle December 5

Rockachaws Win Bid to Game With Victory Over Cadets of G. C. M. A.

By Wm. McG. Keefe

McComb High school's Tigers, champions of the Big Eight and recognized as one of the strongest high school teams ever developed in Mississippi, and St. Stanislaus of Bay St. Louis will be the two teams invited to participate in the eighth annual Toy Bowl game which is held for the benefit of The Times-Picayune Doll and Toy Fund.

St. Stanislaus defeated G. C. M. A. Saturday, 28 to 7.

The game will be played Friday night, December 5, at City Park Stadium. Tickets will go on sale Monday.

Until Bogalusa's defeat by Istrouma High Friday night at Bogalusa, three powerful and unbeaten high school teams were in the running for the Toy Bowl bid. Bogalusa was eliminated and then it was necessary for St. Stanislaus to complete its season with a victory over Gulf Coast Military Academy Saturday for the Rockachaws to get the bid.

Both Teams Accept

Both teams have been sounded out as to their willingness to accept invitations, which will officially go out today. Each team has tentatively accepted, each school putting it up to the boys who play the game. After all, it is the young men who battle out there on the gridiron who do the hardest work and that is why schools always leave it up to their football players to reject or accept postseason games. If the boys are willing to undergo an extra two weeks of the kind of training a Toy Bowl game calls for, and to do this for a cause like the Doll and Toy Fund, then the schools okay it.

St. Stanislaus and McComb come to the Toy Bowl unbeaten and untied. Each school has made a brilliant record. St. Stanislaus numbers among its victims two of the most powerful local teams—St. Aloysius and Jesuit.

Phenomenal Record

McComb has played 11 games. Its record really is phenomenal. The Tigers played the same old razzle-dazzle type of football which Coach C. C. Moore taught at Pascagoula High during the years Pascagoula was making great records.

This will mark the second time Coach Burge of St. Stanislaus and Coach Moore have tied up in a Toy Bowl game. Several years ago Moore brought the Pascagoula Panthers to New Orleans to meet Catholic High of Baton Rouge in the Toy Bowl game. The result was an overwhelming victory for Pascagoula.

Ever since then Burge has wanted revenge on Moore and he hopes to get in this year with the fine team he has built around "Doc" Blanchard.

Here are the records of the two teams this season:

M'COMB

McComb 27, Lake Charles 13.
McComb 27, Baton Rouge 6.
McComb 27, Memphis 13.
McComb 40, Laurel 6.
McComb 40, Vicksburg 0.
McComb 27, Hattiesburg 7.
McComb 40, Kosciusko 0.
McComb 28, Crystal Springs 0.
McComb 35, Tupelo 0.
McComb 19, Greenville 0.
McComb 61, Brookhaven 0.

ST. STANISLAUS

St. Stanislaus 21, Catholic Hi 7.
St. Stanislaus 14, St. Aloysius 0.
St. Stanislaus 41, Donaldsonville C. H. 6.
St. Stanislaus 27, Moss Point 7.
St. Stanislaus 19, Picayune 0.
St. Stanislaus 7, Jesuit 6.

ROCKS' GREAT HALFBACK IN FINE SHOWING

Cadets Battle Hard But No Match for Toy Bowl Gridders

By Stanford Opotowsky
(The Times-Picayune Staff Correspondent)

Bay St. Louis, Miss., Nov. 22.—The great "Doc" Blanchard, displaying all of the drive and power of a supertank, won another football game for St. Stanislaus today. Playing the same sensational brand of ball that has already made his name unforgettable in Gulf coast annals, he scored three of his team's four touchdowns as the Rockachaws defeated Gulf Coast Military Academy, 28-7.

The victory permitted Pete Burge's youngsters to complete their second season in four years with an undefeated record, and once again an invitation to New Orleans' Toy Bowl is theirs. The Prides of Bay St. Louis meet McComb's Big Eight Conference champions December 5 at City Park Stadium.

Blanchard was really at his best this afternoon. Not only was he driving harder than usual, but he was able to show no little amount of speed on the several occasions that he broke loose from would-be Cadet tacklers. His defensive play was again a center of interest. In brief, this was just another great day for "Doc" Blanchard, Stanislaus' quadruple-threat de luxe.

Not Easy Victory

The victory this afternoon was not an easy one to attain, however, though the score was one-sided. But it does not begin to tell of the constant danger presented by the varied G. C. M. A. pass plays. The Cadets, unwilling to try too much against the tough Rockachaw line, displayed an odd spread formation which permitted speedy Charley Black and Billy Doran to pull many a fine aerial.

Black, especially, gave the Rocks trouble. He can throw the ball accurately and his running was a thorn in Stanislaus' side all afternoon.

But all of that still can't take the play away from the Rocks. It was strictly their day.

Besides Blanchard, Hugh Kiefer and Adolph Schmidt in the backfield turned in admirable performances. Their running was naturally overshadowed by that of the "Doc," but they still come in for a share of the plaudits.

The Stanislaus line also held its own. The ends, J. T. Prosser and Cliff O'Conner, were especially good. And Harold Zimmerman at tackle also did a fine job. Ed Koch, a little fellow playing center, was one of the standouts on defense until he left the game, his leg broken, in the fourth period.

Had Good Players

G. C. M. A. also had some good boys. Bender at end looked fine while Fulton also did well. But most of the Cadet fans had their eyes focused on the offensive sparks—Doran and Black.

The Rocks opened their attack early and never let up. A 52-yard march presented the first touchdown. Blanchard's 23-yard run around left end was one of the features of the drive, and it was "Doc" who eventually scored from the Cadet two-yard line.

That was in the first period. G. C. M. A. tied the score early in the second quarter on a sensational pass play from one of those spreal formations. Playing a second down from their own 32, the Cadets gave the ball to Black from center. He was rushed fast by the Stanislaus line, and in a desperate attempt to prevent being thrown for a sizeable loss, he tossed a short one to Doran.

Taking in the ball on about his 20 on the right side of the field, Doran speedily worked his way over towards the left portion of the gridiron, racing the full 80 yards to a touchdown. From scrimmage, the play netted 68 yards.

Rocks Bounce Back

Worried about the game with the score tied, the Rocks bounced back fast. And in doing so they marched 70 yards for a touchdown after Schmidt's 24-yard kickoff runback followed the Cadet touchdown. Blanchard led the way during the drive, but it was Prosser who eventually scored on an end-around-end play from the G. C. M. A. 26.

In the third period Stanislaus scored again when Blanchard displayed some of that unexpected speed. After running 90 yards to one touchdown, only to have it called back for a holding penalty, he dashed 59 yards to the third Rockachaw tally of the afternoon.

On this play he started through center, and after reaching the Cadet secondary, he cut over to the left and outran any would-be tacklers.

A 64-yard march in the fourth period terminated the Stanislaus scoring parade. Blanchard's 15-yard and 16-yard runs (one following the other) set the stage by putting the ball on the Cadet 10, and three plays later "Doc" went over from the two.

Following all four Stanislaus touchdowns Blanchard's placements converted.

Shortly after that the Gulf Coasters nearly scored when Doran completed a 58-yard pass to Black, who was brought down from behind by Koch on the Stanislaus eight. This was the play on which the Rock center suffered the broken leg.

A few moments later the threat ended when Blanchard intercepted Doran's pass on the Stanislaus two and then kicked out of danger.

DIBARTOLO AND BLANCHARD TO BATTLE IT OUT

Tony of Jays, Rockachaws' 'Doc' Match Wits in Tilt Sunday

By Stanford Opotowsky

Jesuit and St. Stanislaus had better have good lines Sunday, for both forward walls will take a mean pounding when the Blue Jays and the Rockachaws tangle.

Why? Because in that contest will be two of the greatest high school fullbacks in the South—Tony DiBartolo of Jesuit and Felix "Doc" Blanchard of Stanislaus. They're both topnotch, hard-to-stop boys. They ought to supply plenty action for the large crowd expected to witness the contest at City Park Stadium.

SEEK FOURTH WIN

Metairie's Yellow Jackets, Riverside League leaders, will attempt to annex their fourth consecutive victory Sunday afternoon when they tie up with the Marrero Mustangs at Hi-Way Park. The game will begin at 2:30 p. m.

Beat Aloysius

This will mark the second time this season that St. Stanislaus has invaded New Orleans seeking football conquests. The first occasion came early in the season when the Rocks looked very superior as they handed St. Aloysius a 14-0 lacing. It was after that game that the local followers started anticipating this meeting between DiBartolo and Blanchard.

Last year the "Doc" was a member of the Stanislaus team which was licked, 21-0, by the Jays. Returning in quest of revenge, he and his mates will be mighty dangerous.

DiBartolo is a veteran all-stater. His line pounding and defensive work have been one of Jesuit's best features for three years. Will he meet his match in Blanchard? That's a question only Sunday's game can get answered.

Shares Spotlight

This contest shares the spotlight with Friday's Easton-Aloysius struggle. The Eagles are presently on top of the league standing in a tie with Jesuit, while the Crusaders are listed among the major contenders for such a lofty spot.

Johnny Campora, Aloysius' great quadruple threat, 'will pit his abilities against Easton's squadron of backfield stars—Charley Donnelly, Audis Gill, Al Chatham. Florian Seal and Freddie Brechtel.

Sunday Holy Cross bounces back into action by playing Behrman at Behrman Stadium in Algiers.

CAMPORA BEST FOR CRUSADER TEAM IN GAME

Locals Are Stopped on All Sides in Interstate Clash

By Stanford Opotowsky

St. Stanislaus power was too much for St. Aloysius to cope with Sunday afternoon at City Park Stadium. Despite some beautiful playing by Johnny Campora, the Crusaders were stopped cold every time they sought to make a move, and thus they were 14-0 losers to Pete Burge's Rockachaws.

NICHOLLS VS PETERS

The Nicholls Rebels and the Peters Wildcats will meet tonight at City Park Stadium in their game which was postponed from last Thursday. Both teams are undefeated.

The sensational "Doc" Blanchard not only lived up to his advance notices in this game, he exceeded them. He executed the major part of the steamroller Rock scoring machine.

The Crusaders—especially Campora—played gamely. But they could get nowhere through the Rock line. And when they resorted to passes they also found themselves in hot water. Interceptions played a major role in the ball game.

Chetta Does Well

Besides Campora, Anthony Chetta also looked very good for Aloysius. Hugh Kiefer was Blanchard's running mate, and one of the highlights of the game was Kiefer's 48-yard punt return for the second Stanislaus touchdown in the third period.

It seemed that Aloysius' best playing came at inopportune moments. Many Crusader drives were equal to those of the Rocks in yardage, but they were halted before any scores. The first down count was 11-all.

The Crusaders looked like they were going to score right off the bat in the first period when Chetta intercepted Blanchard's pass on the 50 and six plays later the Crimsons had a first down on the Stanislaus 20. But then Campora fumbled and Reynolds recovered to end that march.

From there the Rocks drove clean down to the Aloysius seven (thanks principally to runs of 24 and 16 yards by Blanchard), but again a fumble halted the march. Campora recovered the "Doc's" bobble on the Crusader three.

BLANCHARD IS

Score in Second

It was in the second period that the Rockachaws grabbed off the lead. Kiefer intercepted Campora's pass on the Stanislaus 32. After two line plays Blanchard lateraled to Breerwood, and Breerwood faded back and tossed a long one to Reynolds for 26 yards and a first down on the Aloysius 35. After a penalty, Blanchard passed to Prosser for 32 yards and another first down. This time the ball was brought to the eight. Three line bucks advanced the Rocks six yards, and then Blanchard dove over the goal from the two.

"Doc's" placement converted the extra point, making the score 7-0. And that's the way it stood at the end of the half.

The Rocks scored their second touchdown early in the third period. Blanchard punted beautifully out of bounds on the Aloysius eight, and after three line plays the Crusaders were on their 14 with last down. So Campora punted.

His boot was taken in by Kiefer on the Crusader 48, and from there the Rock safety man started a beautiful jaunt down the right side line. Shaking off and side-stepping would-be tacklers from all sides, he dashed into the end zone. For the second time Blanchard's placement split the goal posts, converting the extra point.

The Rocks nearly scored in the fourth period when they marched steadily from their 26 to the Aloysius six, but with a touchdown in sight Blanchard's pass was intercepted by Campora.

Blanchard's Touchdown and ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ Conversion Beats Jays, 7 to 6

St. Stanislaus Takes Thrilling Game; Jesuit Wining Streak Halted

BY LEW HARRIS

The victory march of the Jesuit Blue Jays was halted Sunday afternoon at City Park Stadium when a powerful ball club from St. Stanislaus, led by the brilliant playing of their left half, Felix "Doc" Blanchard, scored a touchdown and extra point for a 7-6 victory.

Although finally beaten in a prep gridiron contest, it took one of the finest exhibitions of all-around backfielding in the person of this superb running, passing kicking and defensive "Doc" Blanchard to turn the trick. The 190 pound coast flash scored the Rocks touchdown on an around end run from the one-yard line and stepped back to place the ball directly through the cross bars with about three minutes to play in the second quarter for the one point that was the margin of victory.

The Stanislaus club had many other star performers yesterday, however. Outstanding in the well drilled, hard charging line that manhandled the heavier Jay front wall were J. T. Prosser, Ed and Harold Zimmerman, and their diminutive center B. J. Moise. Prosser not only had a grand afternoon of stopping the Jay reverses over his side of the line, but made numerous gains carrying the ball on end around plays. The Zimmerman brothers were largely responsible for quelling the gains of the ramming Jesuit fullback "Tony" Di Bartolo, and laid on some vicious blocks in opening holes for Blanchard, Adolph Schmidt and Hugh Kiefer to run through.

Blanchard Terrific

Blanchard was terrific but he was ably assisted by his two very good running mates, Hugh Kiefer and Schmidt. On the Rocks touchdown drive it was Schmidt and Blanchard, who alternately cracked the big Jesuit line through the middle and off the tackles for a 41-yard sustained push. Kiefer did a pretty job of line backing and returning the long punts coming from the toe of the excellent Jay kicker, Tom Loker.

The way things happened in the first quarter of the ball game it looked like Coach Gernon Brown's team was going to duplicate their 21-0 victory of last year. Starting from their own 37 following a quick kick by Blanchard, the Jays opened up with an aerial bombardment that simply couldn't be halted. Di Bartolo clicked to Loker for 17 yards. Hardie caught one from Coates for 9, Widmer was on the receiving end of another pass from Coates for 8, and the flurry was climaxed when on last down with 9 to go Loker from his right end position cut sharply to the left in front of Hugh Kiefer and took a bullet pass from Coates for the touchdown. Loker's kick was wide but, at that time, with the way the Jay machine was functioning it didn't seem likely that one point would make much difference one way or another.

Game Changes Color

Then, all of a sudden, "Doc" Blanchard took over the show and the color of the game took on a different tinge. Kicking from the Jesuit 40, "Doc" spiraled a punt out of bounds on the Jay one-yard line, from where Loker kicked out to 50 and Kiefer brought it back to the 41. A few minutes later the ball was on the 6 and, when Jesuit was offsides, the ball was moved half the distance to the goal line which made it first down and 3 for a touchdown. At this moment a Jesuit line that moments before was porous as a sieve rallied to put on a goal line stand that was a thriller.

Blanchard banged right guard for a yard and a half and then hit the same spot for another. With the entire Jesuit team piling up the play, he was held for nothing over left guard. The Jesuits were playing practically an eleven man line and if Coach "Pete" Burge hadn't sent in Peyton Waters at quarterback for Breerwood the Jay goal line might still be uncrossed. Coach Burge's bench strategy worked out, and Blanchard, with all the Jesuit players clustered around the middle of the line, broke off to the right to score untouched.

For the Blue Jays the playing of Al Widmer at the right wing and Lucius Caruso at center were outstanding. Widmer made a number of nice runs and was the only player the hard hitting Rocks couldn't consistently stop. Caruso in his center position was making ninety per cent of the Blue Jay tackles and was the boy who stopped Blanchard the few times he was stopped.

Tom Loker did another laudible job of booting the ball, and made a beautiful catch of the touchdown pass.

DREAM TILT SLATED FOR DECEMBER 5

Announcement of Participants in Battle Highlights Prep Week-End

By Stanford Opotowsky

Announcement that McComb and St. Stanislaus had been invited to compete in the 1941 Toy Bowl highlighted the prep football week-end. Both teams pulled through their final tests with flying colors to become the only undefeated and untied major high school elevens in both Louisiana and Mississippi. And with this ideal match lined up the demand for the tickets for the December 5 classic has already started.

CHANGES SYSTEM

Responding to many suggestions by athletic directors and coaches and members of athletgroups over a period of time, the New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association will select the officials for the New Year's Day football game from among a list of outstanding officials of the various collegiate conferences and groups throughout the nation, it was announced Monday. Heretofore the selection has been made by the teams from a list of officials from the conferences or sections to which they belong.

This is veritably a "dream game." The current football season has produced upset after upset until now we've reached the stage where perfect records are as scarce as Californians in Florida. Therefore, the pairing of the Tigers and the Rockachaws marks the high spot in the brief but colorful history of the Toy Bowl.

Bogalusa Eliminated

Until Friday night there were three teams in the running for a bid. Bogalusa was Louisiana's candidate—the only unbeaten and untied team in the state. St. Stanislaus and McComb were Mississippi's offerings. But then came one of those pesky upsets. Playing inspired ball, Istrouma upped and whipped Bogalusa to make inevitable the matching of Stanislaus and McComb—if such a game were possible.

And that's the situation as it stands now. Official invitations went out to the two schools Monday after overwhelming approval of the match came in from McComb, Bay St. Louis, varied other points in Mississippi, and, of course, New Orleans.

Feature of Game

The big feature of this impending struggle is the meeting of "Doc" Blanchard, the versatile Rockachaw great, and the Hodges brothers, the Tigers' offensive combination par excellence.

But there's much more to the game than that. Here are two of the finest high school teams ever to compete in this section of the nation. Both have powerhouses augmented with flashy passing attacks, and so from all appearances this year's contest may even exceed that of last year in the thrills department.

On the local front there was also a bit of action, but not very much. Easton and Jesuit both passed their prechampionship game tests with flying colors. Playing in the mud, the Eagles defeated Fortier, 26-0, and the Jays knocked off Holy Cross, 20-0.

Season's Last Tilts

Those games were the last of the season for the Tarpons, who didn't win one all year, and the Tigers, who dropped their last three contests by a trio of touchdowns.

This means that Easton and Jesuit meet December 6 for the Prep League championship. Both are undefeated in league competition, although both have been beaten once by out-of-town opponents. The Jays suffered a 7-6 defeat at the hands of St. Stanislaus, while Istrouma has a 14-6 decision over the Eagles.

There is one game scheduled locally this week-end. In it Peters is slated to meet Istrouma Friday

BLANCHARD IS MAIN COG OF FINE MACHINE

'Doc's' Plowing Psychological Effect on Opposing Lines

By Stanford Opotowsky

The thing that makes St. Stanislaus' team great is the tremendous amount of power the Rockachaws are able to generate on every play. Twice this season local fans have had a chance to see this near-perfect football machine in action, and that's why a crowd of about 10,000 is being predicted for the Toy Bowl game next week. It'll be in the annual classic that the Rock powerhouse meets its most severe test, for the flashy McComb team is just the kind to give the steady Gulf Coasters a peck of trouble.

The Rockachaw scoring machine is, of course, built around the inimitable Doc Blanchard. He's a fullback to end all fullbacks. With the power of a massive truck and the fierceness of a maddened bull, he pounds opposing lines to a pulp.

It takes a man like the Doc to make a power-stressing football team click. For not only is his actual ability so very important, but his great drive also has a psychological effect—it gives his teammates added confidence and it makes the other outfit a bit wary in its defense.

That was the case, for instance, in Saturday's G. C. M. A. team. The Cadets have a team which is much better than some people think. Built around Charley Black and Billy Doran, those Soldier Boys are no pushovers. But faced with the task of hauling bulky Blanchard to the turf on almost every play, the academy linemen became all but frustrated. The job was great, and after every bruising tackle they found that the Doc had picked up considerable yardage in spite of their efforts. Such a thing can get to be mighty discouraging after a while, and that partially accounts for G. C. M. A's 28-7 defeat.

Blanchard's power was shown in New Orleans twice this season. The first time was against St. Aloysius, and in that game the Crusaders, despite the great little Johnny Campora, suffered their only defeat of the year—it coming by a 14-0 score.

In that contest Doc was murderous in his attack. The season was yet young, but that seemed to have no effect whatever on the 17-year-old sensation as he plowed through the line time after time, piling up yardage.

And a few weeks later the Rockachaws handed another New Orleans team a defeat—the champion Jesuit Blue Jays, who up to then hadn't lost a game in 15 starts. They, too succumbed to the brutal attack of the Bay St. Louis charges. The score was 7-6, but you may be sure that the victory was much more decisive. The Stanislaus team had command of the situation most of the afternoon.

St. Stanislaus played in New Orleans twice this year. On both occasions the Rocks handed a leading city team its first defeat, and in both cases it was the only loss that eleven suffered all year. (Jesuit, of course, still must play Easton).

That's a record which in itself is impressive. But when you also consider that Pete Burge's boys haven't been beaten or tied themselves, you get to really realize what a fine team they have.

The big question now is: Can the St. Stanislaus powerhouse beat the flashy McComb team? That's a query akin to, "Can a good little man beat a good big man?" Both can be answered only by actual ball games. And the already heavy ticket demand makes us sure that some 10,000 grid fans want to be on hand when the answer comes Friday night, December 5, at City Park Stadium.

Tremendous Power Generated for Each Play Makes St. Stanislaus Team Great

Blanchard Star Of Exciting Tilt On Bay Gridiron

By CLINTON C. BLACKWELL

Finishing their regular season undefeated and untied with a 28-7 victory over the Gulf Coast Military Academy Cadets, the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws have turned attention to a December 5 engagement with the Big Eight Conference champion McComb High Tigers in the New Orleans Toy Bowl.

The Toy Bowl invitation came to the Rock-a-Chaws after they turned back the Cadets Saturday afternoon in a rip-roaring offensive football battle on the Stanislaus gridiron in Bay St. Louis.

The game was spectacular and saw Felix "Doc" Blanchard, Stanislaus' sensational fullback, rise to even greater heights in leading his mates to a well-earned decision. But it must be said for the Cadets, they made it a far better ball game than the score margin would indicate.

It was one of those wide-open affairs where something was liable to happen most any moment. And a lot did happen during the 48 minutes of warfare that kept the large crowd on edge throughout.

ROCKS SCORE FIRST

Blanchard and Company went into scoring motion in the first quarter on a 54-yard sustained drive the first time they gained possession of the ball. Blanchard did most of the gaining but he got some help from Adolph Schmidt and Hugh Keifer on reverses.

It all started when Keifer snatched a Cadet pass on his own 46. A series of running plays moved the ball down to the GCMA 39 and then Blanchard faked a pass and scooted 21 yards more. Schmidt and Blanchard cooperated to advance to the two-yard stripe from where Blanchard crashed over center to score. Blanchard then place-kicked the first of his four conversions.

The Cadets struck back in the second period and tied the score on one play and a placement. When Blanchard punted to the Cadets' 32 there appeared no particular reason to get excited. Then Black was rushed far back in an attempt to pass before he got the ball off to Billy Doran. Grabbing the pigskin behind the line of scrimmage, Doran weaved his way across the field, picked up some splendid blocking and leveled off for the goal line far down the field. It was a beautiful run, covering some 77 yards from where he caught the ball, and 68 yards from the line of scrimmage. Jack Kelly deadlocked the count with the conversion.

Stanislaus came right back again on the following kickoff, moving 70 yards to score with End J. T. Prosser uncorking a 26-yard end-around run for the six points. Prosser really picked his way in eluding the Cadet secondary.

HALF ENDS THREAT

The Cadets had charged from their 35 to the Rocks' 13 as the half ended, using an effective passing attack to move along.

Charlie Black went across for the Cadets early in the third period from the 20-yard line only to have the play called back and GCMA penalized 15 yards for a player illegally in motion. The Cadets then charged right back to the nine-yard line where the ball went over on downs when they failed to gain a first down by inches.

Then Blanchard faked a kick and raced down the sidelines for 91 yards. However, this one was called back, too, and the Rocks penalized to the one-yard stripe for holding.

After an exchange of punts the Rocks took over on their 20. Two running plays and a pass, Blanchard to Prosser, plus an offsides penalty against GCMA, netted 21 yards. This boy Blanchard did the rest in the form of a 59-yard touchdown gallop that started on a spinner over the middle.

BLANCHARD AGAIN

Blanchard punctured a Cadet challenge late in the third and set up another Stanislaus scoring parade when he intercepted a pass on the Rocks' 39. Keifer and Schmidt aided in carrying the ball to the Cadet 3 and Blanchard went over. The drive carried into the fourth period.

The Cadets simply refused to quit and Doran flipped a pass to Black, who scooted 57 yards before he was hauled down on Stanislaus' eight-yard line. It was on this play that Center Ed Koch of the Rocks sustained a broken leg An offsides penalty sat the Cadets back five yards and then Blanchard intercepted a pass on the one-yard stripe to puncture the challenge.

Ramblin' 'Round

By Clinton C. Blackwell

Stanislaus vs McComb will be the Toy Bowl setup in New Orleans' City Park stadium the night of December 5. This was announced Sunday following the Rock-a-Chaws victory over the Gulf Coast Military Academy Cadets Saturday afternoon.

The victory closed the Rocks' regular schedule and left Coach Pete Burge's team in the undefeated-untied class. McComb's Tigers also sport a clean slate, having rung down the curtain on their Big Eight Conference championship with an easy victory over Brookhaven last Thursday.

The Toy Bowl classic stacks up as a natural between two powerful offensive machines. Coach C. C. Moore has a real powerhouse over in the Pike county city, one that rolled through an eleven-game schedule without being extended any too much. Included in the sweep were decisions over Big Eight members Laurel, Vicksburg, Hattiesburg, Tupelo, Greenville and Brookhaven.

McComb has a high-scoring outfit moulded around the Hodges brothers and Vernon Rushing.

They sparked the Big Eight champs through the regular season which saw the Tigers registering 371 points as compared to 45 for the opposition.

Felix "Doc" Blanchard is the man behind the guns for the Rocks. Playing his final year of high school ball, Blanchard was nothing short of sensational in the GCMA game. He is a football marvel, as far as high school gridsters go, and his endurance—well, we don't see how in the devil he does it. Blanchard is a big reason the Rocks scored 245 points in their nine games while the combined opposition netted only 33 points.

It will be worth the trip to New Orleans to see Blanchard match strides with the Hodges, Rushing and Company.

This will be the second Toy Bowl meeting of Moore and Burge coached teams and the former is one-up. When he was at Pascagoula, Coach Moore took the Panthers to New Orleans and beat Coach Burge's Catholic High of Baton Rouge gridsters and Burge has itched for revenge since. He has an opportunity now to square the count—but the question is can his team, built around Blanchard, best the great McComb eleven? Eleven other teams have failed—however, for that matter, nine teams also were unable to stop Blanchard.

Coach Moore wasn't caught napping by his potential Toy Bowl opponents. He was in Bogalusa Friday night when Istrouma removed the erstwhile unbeaten Bogalusa Lumberjacks from the picture. And he was in Bay St. Louis getting an eyeful of the Rocks in their spectacular game with the Cadets.

Rivals to Field Strong Offensive Lineups Friday

Two undefeated and untied football machines—McComb's Tigers and St. Stanislaus' Rock-a-Chaws—are winding up their training this week for Friday night's Toy Bowl collision at City Park stadium in New Orleans. The kickoff is set for 8 o'clock.

Most of the hard work was disposed of last week in both camps and, after today's sessions, the Tigers and Rocks will begin tapering off in lighter rehearsals.

Both of the teams concluded their regular season schedules more than a week ago and, since receiving and accepting the Toy Bowl invites, they have been devoting their full attention to the New Orleans invasion.

The Tigers, coached by C. C. Moore, no stranger in the Crescent city post-season feature, are champions of the Big Eight Conference. They rolled over all opposition in breezing through this fast state league, and also took time off to measure some of the upper flight boys in the Louisiana Class AA loop.

Coach Moore — whose Pascagoula teams of 1934 and 1935 were victorious in the Toy Bowl—will field a high-powered offensive machine built around a trio of ball carriers who are liable to go for the distance anytime.

Heading the class is Arthur Hodges, individual scoring champion of the Big Eight Conference. Hodges racked up 19 touchdowns and one bonus marker for a total of 115 points—a new conference scoring mark for one season. Brother Alfred Hodges is fourth in the scoring table, having 86 points to his credit. Alfred scored eight TDs and contributed 38 perfect placements to the Tigers cause. Vernon Rushing is sixth in the Big Eight race with 72 points, Rushing does most of his tallying on long runs and has a high average per trial this year.

Coach Pete Burge, over at St. Stanislaus, will present a formidable scoring machine himself with Felix "Doc" Blanchard the big gun.

Blanchard has been the kingpin of the Rocks' attack all season and seldom slowed down. However, should the McCombites be able to check the pounding fullback, then Hugh Keifer and Adolph Schmidt, a couple of fleet-footed halfbacks, likely will run wild. As a matter of fact, they are capable of running whether Blanchard is checked or not.

This will be Burge's second trip to the bowl. He was tutor at Catholic High in 1935 when the Baton Rouge team lost to Moore's Pascagoula outfit. Pete has been wanting to get revenge ever since —and now the opportunity is here.

ROCK MENTOR LOOKING FOR TRICKY PLAY

Both Teams Go Throu[illegible] Workouts for Toy Bowl Contest

By Stanford Opotowsky
(The Times-Picayune Staff Correspondent)

McComb, Miss., Nov. 27. — A tour of the Toy Bowl practice camps today revealed that both St. Stanislaus and McComb will be brandishing hard to beat confidence when they tangle in the charity tilt December 5 at City Park Stadium in New Orleans.

Over at Bay St. Louis Pete Burge put his Rockachaws through their first workout since the 28-7 victory over G. C. M. A., while this afternoon C. C. Moore of the McComb Tigers had his lads go through a brisk scrimmage after spending a good while posing for pictures.

Following the workouts both mentors seemed pretty pleased with their chances of victory and if you've been around football coaches for any length of time, you know that's quite unusual.

Can Stop 'em

"We think we can stop them," conservative, slow-talking Burge said as his husky charges whipped through a dummy scrimmage this morning. "But then, we're not going to be too sure. I've played Moore before when he was at Pascagoula (in a previous Toy Bowl game) and I know that he will come up with some of the trickiest stuff imaginable."

"It's unfortunate that I didn't scout McComb. But, nevertheless, I've heard some reports about that ball club. Evidently it has some of the finest downfield blocking you'll ever see. I know Moore is good on that stuff. His backfield deception gets opposing linemen messed up, and that leaves his own linemen free to block in the secondary.

"Yep, Pascagoula under Moore gave me plenty trouble. But the big difference is that I've got more to go on now. We have some mighty good boys here (Jesuit and St. Aloysius will vouch for that) and so we can put up a mighty good game—win, lose or draw," Burge concluded.

Must Stop Blanchard

Moore, a genial Irishman with the map of Eire all over his face, also looks for a mighty close contest.

"St. Stanislaus has plenty of power," he said, "and it's just a question of whether we can stop it or not. I think we can."

"I've seen Stanislaus play and I know we must stop that big boy (Blanchard). Not only is he strong, but he's much faster than I first thought he was. And they have a good line, too, so this game looks like one tough one.

"We are ready for it, though. Our team is unbeaten and the boys are all confident. That's why we'll come to New Orleans to win."

Both teams are in good physical condition. Stanislaus, still bothered with a few bruises from the G. C. M. A. game, should recover easily in time for the bowl tilt.

Ed Koch, the Rocks' star center, is naturally lost for the season because of that broken leg suffered in the G. C. M. A. game, and the big problem at Bay St. Louis is to fill his shoes. "Sonny" Carns can handle the starting position okay. But, when it comes to reserves at the pivot job Burge is rather concerned.

The McComb team is in perfect shape. It's last game was a 61-0 victory over Brookhaven, and there were no injuries suffered then.

Stanislaus' Blanchard to Pit Prowess Against McComb's Hunters in Toy Bowl

This has been a great football season so far as thrills are concerned, but, believe it or not, the best is yet to come. It'll be next week-end, in fact, when things will start popping faster than ever when McComb and St. Stanislaus meet Friday night in the Toy Bowl and Easton and Jesuit tangle Saturday afternoon for the Prep League championship.

That's a football doubleheader well worth bragging about. For little more than a buck prep fans can see four top-flight high school teams compete in a couple of thrilling and important games, and they'll be paying a third of what they shell out for one reserved seat at a good college game.

We're personally convinced that this year's Toy Bowl is by far the best in the nine-year history of the charity classic. This McComb team looks like the greatest team ever to come out of the Big Eight Conference. The fact that it's coached by C. C. Moore is enough to convince veteran New Orleans fans that the eleven has plenty to offer, for it was Moore who led the razzle-dazzle Pascagoula team into the bowl several years ago.

It seems that Moore teaches the trickiest football imaginable. Most coaches are actually afraid to play him. His lads are schooled extensively in timing, and thus they can run off their plays with such speed that even the officials have a tough time finding out who's got the ball.

But St. Stanislaus won't be easy to beat. Everywhere you go these days you hear praise on top of praise for "Doc" Blanchard. His father was truly a great player, the old timers will tell you, but there's nobody who can play a football game like the "Doc." His momentum on those off-tackle plunges is terrific, and he can also do everything else imaginable—punt, pass, kickoff, block, tackle, etc.

And Pete Burge has a nice team built around Blanchard, too. J. T. Prosser, at end, is not only a darned good player, but also a real hustler who's on his toes from the opening kickoff until the closing whistle. Harold Zimmerman, a tackle, is another stellar player in that line.

It's hard to figure out that Toy Bowl game. Moore's deception makes you realize that anything can happen, and yet anybody who has ever seen Blanchard murder opposing lines has a hard time seeing how the Rockachaws can lose.

We've seen St. Stanislaus play three times and we've seen McComb once. But even with all of that behind us we're mighty dubious about this business of picking out a winner. This is one of those games to which there are half a dozen "ifs" connected, and that's why we rub our rabbit's foot, cross our fingers, say a little prayer, and then pick McComb to win a mighty close ball game.

TOY BOWL '11s' BOAST GREAT 1941 RECORDS

Both Are Undefeated and Untied; Game Looks Good

By Stanford Opotowsky

Down in this section of the country, where high school football is so popular, good teams are many but unbeaten teams are few. That's why Friday night's Toy Bowl classic between McComb and St. Stanislaus is currently the talk of the town. These are the only major teams in Louisiana and Mississippi that completed their regular schedules undefeated and untied.

That means a lot, especially since the elevens don't go in for pushover games. McComb, for instance, is a member of the Big Eight Conference. The Tigers play a regular league program and then they also meet outstanding Louisiana teams such as Lake Charles, northern champion in this state last season, and Baton Rouge High.

Located on the Gulf coast, St. Stanislaus doesn't belong to any league. And because of a free hand in arranging schedules the Rockachaws are able at times to play even more outstanding outfits than Big Eight members.

Have Fine Records

But to fully appreciate the real power of both of these Toy Bowl contestants you have to examine their respective records.

Let's take McComb's first. The Tigers skipped their way through an 11-game schedule as if each was just another practice scrimmage. Opening with Lake Charles, they beat the northern champs, 27 to 13. Then came a 27-6 victory over Baton Rouge. For the third straight week the Bengals came through with 27 points when they whipped Memphis, 27-13.

By this time Coach C. C. Moore's lads were ready to start their league campaign, so in quick succession they knocked off Laurel, 40-6, and Vicksburg, 40-0.

After that everyone in the Big Eight recognized the Tigers' superiority. Kosciusko (not in the loop) bowed, 40-0; Crystal Springs was beaten, 28-0; Tupelo was handed a 35-0 lacing; Greenville was licked, 19-0, and Brookhaven was the victim of a 61-0 defeat.

Is Impressive

Now that's really an impressive record. The closest game the Tigers played (it was against Greenville) they won by three touchdowns, and even then they had two called back and were penalized over 100 yards in the bargain.

For the year's total the Tigers have 371 points against their opponents' 45. And only Lake Charles and Memphis were able to get as many as two touchdowns through the Bengal defenses.

Reading that makes you think McComb is unbeatable? Well, just hold your judgment a while until you see what St. Stanislaus has done.

Like the Tigers, the Rockachaws are unbeaten and practically untested. Ever since they whipped Catholic High, 21-7, in the season opener Pete Burge's Gulf Coasters knew they were headed for big things. They licked St. Aloysius, 14-0, in New Orleans right after that Catholic game and then came a 41-6 triumph

Rockachaw star.

Licked Jesuit

Moss Point was a 27-7 loser to the Rocks and Picayune, a Big Eight member, suffered a 19-0 defeat. Jesuit provided the Stanislaus crew with its only close call of the season, and even then the Rocks ran all over the field as they licked the Jays 7-6.

Victories over Pascagoula (40-0), Lyon High (48-12) and dangerous G. C. M. A. (28-7) rounded out the regular schedule.

During their nine-game campaign the Stanislaus team scored 175 points and gave up 32. Lyon High, even in losing 48-12, was able to score two touchdowns on the Rocks, but the Covington crew was the only team all year that could do that.

And just as the Toy Bowl game is attracting a lot of interest, so the Easton-Jesuit battle is drawing a wealth of attention.

This Eagle-Jay battle (it's carded for Saturday afternoon at Tulane Stadium) is one of those "naturals" that doesn't come along very often. Here are two teams, bitter rivals for years, battling for the coveted city title. You can bet that there'll be plenty of real thrilling football before they're through.

The teams appear to be very evenly matched, making it one of those "take your pick" affairs so far as betting is concerned. The Eagles are 6-to-5 favorites right now, but there's a possibility that by post time the game is liable to be an even money matter.

oc' Compared to His Father of Past Football Era

By Stanford Opotowsky

Like father like son.

That's Doc Blanchard all over. The sensational St. Stanislaus fullback who performs in the Toy Bowl classic against McComb Friday night has proven himself to be a great football player; but whether or not his deeds exceed those of his old man is a moot question.

The moderns who have seen the Doc in action will boost him to high heaven, claiming there has never been another as good. They'll tell you that his versatility is unequaled; and all of that fairly true.

But the old-timers must also ve their say, and the veterans ho were watching football mes in 1920 will tell you that elix Blanchard, Sr., was one hale of a player who, in his day, ould play rings around the outhful Doc.

Would Be Battle

Well, that's a controversy we want no part of. Having seen Doc in action three times this year and having heard the gray-haired boys around the office spin yarns about Mr. Blanchard, we're convinced that a Blanchard vs Blanchard duel, should a turn-back-the-clock stunt be possible, would really be a battle.

However, it's the younger Blanchard we're interested in right now. He leads his team against McComb Friday night in the schools' second Toy Bowl game in four years, just as he has paced the Rocks in every game they've played this season.

This season St. Stanislaus scored 244 points in nine games. Of that total Blanchard was responsible for 163 points—almost half.

Doc scored 23 touchdowns during the season and then converted 25 extra points. How? He's not particular. If he feels like cracking the line he does so. Or else he can skirt the ends, throw a pass, catch a pass, or boot placements.

Outdoes Campora

Johnny Campora of St. Aloysius is generally credited with being the most versatile footballer in New Orleans, and, though it's hard for an out-and-out Campora fan to say so, one must admit that Blanchard can outdo the Crusader at times.

The fact that Blanchard has appeared in New Orleans twice is something that contributes no little to the record attendance expected. Both times he was here the Doc led his teammates to victories—14-0 over St. Aloysius and 7-6 over Jesuit. And both times his praises were sung by every grandstand quarterback for weeks afterwards.

This is Blanchard's final game of his high school career. Hardly 17 years old, the great 190-pound fullback is graduating in June along with most of the other members of the fine St. Stanislaus squad. That'll be a sad, sad day for Coach Pete Burge—but a mighty happy one for some lucky college coach.

Good Weather Ahead

A prediction released by the United States weather bureau Wednesday calls for fine weather Friday night. There will be no rain over the week-end at all, and is means that a crowd of at t 10,000 will be on hand. This ally a conservative estimate, ith two days left the ad- had almost equaled

UNBEATEN GRID SQUADS BOAST OF MANY ACES

Hodges Brothers, Rushing of Tigers, Rocks' Blanchard Standouts

By Stanford Opotowsky

The ninth annual Toy Bowl classic will be played Friday night at City Park Stadium when the McComb Tigers, champions of the Big Eight Conference, meet St. Stanislaus' Rockachaws, Gulf coast titleholders in what looms as the best game in the history of the charity classic.

The fact that proceeds of the game go to The Times-Picayune Doll and Toy Fund is almost insignificant so great is the interest in this clash between two undefeated and untied teams. But, nevertheless, ticket purchasers still know that they are aiding one of the most worthy causes imaginable.

Ideal Match

This is truly an ideal match. McComb, under the brainy C. C. Moore, has been in the thick of the Big Eight fight for six years now—but always the Tigers barely missed out on the championship. But it seems that 1941 was their year. They crushed every opponent by the margin of at least three touchdowns, copping the title and subsequently the coveted Toy Bowl bid.

St. Stanislaus, under Pete Burge, also has a fine team. And also an unbeaten team. The Rocks took in two New Orleans elevens—Jesuit and St. Aloysius—in their campaign. They clinched the Toy Bowl invitation with a smashing 28-7 victory over G. C. M. A's aerial aces.

Many Backfield Stars

Both teams have sensational backfield stars whom many a college scout will be watching Friday night.

McComb's best bets are the Hodges brothers—Arthur and Alfred—and Vernon Rushing. Art is the touchdown-getter in that brother combine while Al kicks the extra points. Rushing helps out in the six-point department, and his great speed makes him a very valuable man.

The name of Stanislaus' great star is on the lips of every football fan in New Orleans. He is Felix "Doc" Blanchard, son of a onetime Tulane star, and a mighty lad if there ever was one.

"Doc" is a charging fullback. It's nothing for him to pierce through an opposing line for 12 or 15 yards, carrying three would-be tacklers on his back the entire distance. His passing is great and his pass-faking is even better. He can punt and kickoff like a champion and his defense work is superb. In short, he's a super football player.

Several Line Stars

There are also several line stars to be watched in Friday night's game. Brady of McComb is a fine kicker while J. T. Prosser and Harold Zimmerman of the Stanislaus forward wall are also cracker-jack performers.

This is the ninth game in the series of Doll and Toy fund benefits. The first was played in 1933 when Behrman beat N. O. A., 27-0. Pascagoula, coached by the same Moore who now handles McComb, performed the next two years, beating Easton, 14-0, and Catholic High, 35-0. In 1936 Jesuit beat Picayune, 19-0, and in 1937 the Jays whipped Picayune, 8-0. In 1938 that Jesuit club tied St. Stanislaus, 6-6. In 1939 Laurel beat Holy Cross, 7-6, and last year in the most thrilling game of all, Meridian rallied to nose out Holy Cross, 14-13.

The kickoff for the tilt Friday is slated for 8 o'clock.

SET FOR CLASSIC—Arthur Hodges (left) and Alfred (in top photo) are both set for Friday night's Toy Bowl classic. They're the lads who paced McComb to its first Big Eight Conference championship and now seek a victory over St. Stanislaus in the charity tilt. adets, Rock-a-Chaws Meet aturday in Bay St. Louis In Annual Football Battle

By CLINTON C. BLACKWELL

Two of the Mississippi Coast's top-flight gridiron machines—the Gulf Coast Military Academy Cadets and St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws—clash headon Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'colck on the Stanislaus Stadium turf in Bay St. Louis.

As the rivals went through closing workouts today, nothing had developed to alter the situation and the Rock-a-Chaws, undefeated and untied in eight games, remained favorites to close their regular season schedule with a victory.

The Rocks want this ball game for three reasons. Other than protecting their clean slate, Coach Pete Burge's boys have receptive ears tuned on the New Orleans Toy Bowl committee, and also vividly recall last year's stunning 34-20 defeat the Cadets engineered, spoiling an otherwise perfect season.

The Cadets have their reasons, too. This annual melee with the Rocks means a lot to Coach Carl Maddox's crew and they will be gunning for victory. Also they have experienced more than a fair season themselves, going into tomorrow's game with a record of six victories, two defeats and one tie against some of the top teams in Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama. Another credit mark on the victory side of the ledger at the expense of an unbeaten opponent will not do any harm.

Stanislaus will field practically an all-senior team, nine of the starting Rocks playing their final game before home fans. Included in this group is Felix "Doc" Blanchard, sensational fullback who is the kingpin of the Rock-a-Chaws' attack.

Blanchard has sparked the Rocks all season, attending to most of the scoring and handling his chores well on defense. However, Coach Burge has some more backs who can go too, including Hugh Keifer and Adolph Schmidt.

The Cadets have some flashy backs also in Billy Doran and Bowman Starnes, hard charging fullbacks, and Billy (Little Butch) Wilson and Charlie Black, halfbacks. It was the latter youngster who led GCMA to victory in the 1940 renewal. Starnes, however, may not get into action as he has been nursing a cold all week.

J. T. Prosser will be at left end for the Rocks with Harold Zimmerman left tackle, James O'Donohoe left guard, Kennedy Carnes center, Lawrence Liveccari right guard, John Funk right tackle, and Ed Zimmerman right end. The backfield unit will be selected from Blanchard, Keifer, Schmidt, Elmer Breerwood and Clifford O'Connor, all seniors.

The Rock-a-Chaws are reported in the pink of condition with the roster free of injuries.

A parade, sponsored by the Stanislaus Sidelines Club, starts at 1:30 and the line of march will be from the Bay St. Louis business district to the stadium.

Adding color to the GCMA side of the field will be the presence of the Cadet battalion and band.

Three of the officials selected for the game are Dutch Luchschinger referee, Robert Morris umpire, and Larry Lashley headlinesman. The field judge was unannounced.

THEY MEET AGAIN—It's an old story—this C. C. Moore vs Pete Burge rivalry—but the latest edition promises to be better than the previous one. It was in 1935 that Moore (right) and Burge (left) vied in the Toy Bowl game, and now they hook up in the 1941 charity classic. Moore now heads McComb and Burge is at St. Stanislaus helm. The game is Friday night at City Park Stadium.

Pete Burge—C. C. Moore

Coach C. C. Moore of McComb scouted St. Stanislaus college; Coach Pete Burge of St. Stanislaus did not have a chance to scout McComb.

"I know pretty much what kind of football Coach Moore plays," said Burge. "I coached Catholic High when we met Coach Moore's Pascagoula team in the Toy Bowl some years ago. Now if I knew some way to stop the four McComb backs, all of whom carry the ball, I'd feel better."

Coach Moore said he had seen St. Stanislaus play and ever since seeing them has been scratching his head wondering what it will take to stop "Doc" Blanchard.

The McComb party which came down for the Quarterbacks meeting ironed out some transportation problems and said 2000 fans were coming down from Pike county and other southern Mississippi spots.

The fact that neither St. Stanislaus nor McComb has been beaten or tied, and that each school believes it has the finest high school team ever assembled in these parts makes the game look like a hummer.

Thousands of working people who are unable to get off for a Saturday afternoon game will take advantage of the opportunity to see this game Friday night. The exploits of the Hodges brothers of McComb and of Rushing and other McComb backs; the razzle-dazzle of McComb; and the might of "Doc" Blanchard and Pete Burge's offense built around Blanchard are well known to football fans who had seen or read about the games McComb and St. Stanislaus have played.

City Park Stadium seats 28,000 people—about 8000 on each side. It is expected the side stands will be comfortably filled for the game, which will mean a crowd of 15,000.

McComb is bringing its fine band and pep squad, numbering 100, St. Stanislaus has its crack band, led by George Comeaux, a Baton Rouge boy who, according to Brother Peter, ranks pretty close to Steve Borne, the lad who won all sorts of championships for baton-twirling while with Catholic High of Baton Rouge and who then became drum major at L. S. U.

BURGE SEEKS GRID REVENGE IN FRIDAY TILT

His Catholic High Eleven Lost in '35 to Moore's Panthers

By Stanford Opotowsky

Pete Burge has an old score to settle with C. C. Moore, and he gets his chance Friday night.

The story goes back several years to the third Toy Bowl game in 1935. Burge was then coach at Catholic High and Moore was at Pascagoula, the two teams selected that season to play in the classic. It was billed as a great game and, while it was darned good, it proved to be a walkaway for Moore's razzle-dazzle country boys. Running wild for four spine-tingling periods, the Mississippi lads eventually came up with a 35-0 victory.

Ever since then Burge has been waiting for a chance to get revenge — good-natured revenge, mind you—on the demon Moore. And now that chance has come. Friday night Pete's St. Stanislaus Rockachaws will shoot the works against Moore's McComb Tigers in the ninth renewal of the Toy Bowl classic.

Respects Moore

But while Burge has all the desire in the world to lick that unpredictable McComb team, he still has plenty of respect for Moore's play. "You never can tell what his team will do," Pete said the other day. "Their deception is marvelous. Every man in the backfield either carries the ball or fakes for it."

Veteran New Orleans fans who saw Pascagoula will back up Burge's statements just as much as will those who witnessed any of the McComb games this season.

It was in 1934 and 1935 that Moore first brought a crew of his to the Toy Bowl. In that 1934 game the Panthers played Easton and won, 14-0. The Times-Picayune the next morning said of Pascagoula: "They used spinners, fakes, double fakes, triple fakes and a lot of other maneuvers. . . ."

Outdid Raiders

Colgate was the big razzle-dazzle team of the time and the Panthers were said to even exceed the Red Raiders in that department.

Between the halves of the game amazed fans rushed the seldom-used telephones at Loyola Stadium. For a while stadium officials couldn't understand it, and then they realized that those people were calling friends, urging them to turn out for the second chapter of the great exhibition of "who's-got-the-ball" football. The attendance of that game was almost doubled by the time the second half got under way.

And the same was the case the following year—the year Moore beat Burge's Catholic High team. Leo Ernst, who refereed that game, said, "I've been watching football for 22 years and this is the trickiest yet."

And, as if that Pascagoula team in 1934 and again in 1935 wasn't great enough, Coach Moore believes that this McComb team is even better than the previous two he brought to New Orleans!

He's Still Deceptive

Moore has changed some of his tactics, but he's still as deceptive as ever. He's got a new kind of shift that New Orleans has never seen before—a combination of the Notre Dame, short punt, and —— (this space left for any suggestions) formations. It's just one of those things that only a guy like Moore can cook up.

Burge's chances of victory this time are much better than they were when he was at Catholic High. "Doc" Blanchard, a great to end all greats, is the kind of football player who is not fooled easily—even by such smart play as the McCombs employ.

Thus far in the season the Rockachaws have stuck to power plays and, with Blanchard leading the way, they have been very successful. But now the Rocks will be pressed more than previously —and they are ready to meet the [illegible] Burge has a thing or

Bay Boys Score Three Times in Baton Rouge Tilt

Paced by Sidney Gautreaux operating from a halfback position, the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws of Bay St. Louis scored a 20-0 victory over Catholic High in Baton Rouge Sunday afternoon. The game opened the Rocks' new season.

Gautreaux, who formerly played with Catholic High, set up both of Stanislaus' first quarter touchdowns with long dashes and scored himself in the third period when he hit pay dirt on a 29-yard end sweep.

A fourth down bad pass in Catholic High's first series of plays gave the Rock-a-Chaws possession of the ball on the Bears' 28, setting up the first touchdown parade. Gautreaux whipped around end for 27 yards to the one and big Peyton Waters, captain and fullback of the Mississippians, plunged it over. Gautreaux missed extra point try.

Right after the next kickoff Quarterback Babin of the Bears fumbled and Digirolamo, former Destrehan High star who had a big afternoon with Stanislaus, recovered on the Bears' 37. Stanislaus got five yards on a penalty and then Waters flipped a lateral to Gautreaux, who sailed off the right flank for 30 yards to the Catholic three. Gautreaux lost two on the next play but Waters bulled his way right through center for five and the touchdown. Gautreaux missed the goal try.

A 71-yard kickoff return by Digirolamo opened the third quarter to place the Chaws in scoring position. Catholic stiffened and stopped the Big Red team cold on two plays and then Stanislaus was penalized successively five and 15 yards for backfield in motion and holding, putting the ball back on Catholic's 29 on last down. Gautreaux fooled the Bears into thinking he would pass, but ran instead around left end and got a fine block as he cut back to race over the goal untouched. This time he kicked the extra point.

Stanislaus Beats Catholic Hi, 19-0, in Grid Opener

(Special to The Times-Picayune)

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 20.—Taking full advantage of early breaks, the powerful St. Stanislaus Rockachaws defeated Catholic High school here in their annual football classic, 19 to 0, today.

The Bay St. Louis, Miss., squad was paced by Sidney Gautreaux, who starred as an ace tailback with Catholic High last year. Gautreaux set up both first-quarter touchdown plays with long dashes, and then in the third period got the concluding score on a 29-yard, fourth - down sprint arround the Bears' right end.

The game was not easy for Stanislaus,, as Catholic High gained a lot of ground and had two determined drives halted right on the Chaws' goal. Stanislaus held for downs on their own two to top the best Catholic drive of the day in the second quarter, and then a pass interception by Center Gulotta on his own 11 in the last play of the game kept Stanislaus from being scored upon.

A bad pass on fourth down in Catholic High's first series of plays gave Stanislaus the ball on the Bears' 28. Gautreaux whipped around end for 27 yards to the one and big Peyton Waters, captain and fullback of the Mississippians, plunged it over. Gautreaux missed extra point try.

Right after the next kickoff Quarterback Babin of the Bears fumbled and Digirolamo, former Destrehan High star who had a big afternoon with Stanislaus, recovered on the Bears' 37. Stanislaus got five yards on a penalty and then Waters flipped a lateral to Gautreaux, who sailed off the right flank for 30 yards to the Catholic three. Gautreaux lost two on the next play but Waters bulled his way right through center for five and the touchdown. Gautreaux missed the goal try.

A 71-yard kickoff return by Digirolamo opened the third quarter to place the Chaws in scoring position. Catholic stiffened and stopped the Big Red team cold on two plays and then Stanislaus was penalized successively five and 15 yards for backfield in motion and holding, putting the ball back on Catholic's 29 on last down. Gautreaux fooled the Bears into thinking he would pass, but ran instead around left end and got a fine block as he cut back to race over the goal untouched. This time he kicked the extra point.

Catholic High opened up its famed razzle-dazzle passing late in the game but Kinney's interception of a pass by Gip Gayle at midfield halted one march. Melvin Didier and Wylie Duke started another long march but Duke injured his shoulder and had to leave the game, which just about erased Catholic's chances to score. Gayle tried a final long pass to Willie Kleinpeter in the clear on the last play, but Gullotta backed up to grab the ball on the Stanislaus 11 to end the game.

Stanislaus used only three subs, even though their squad was larger than Catholic High's,

Rocks Bow Before St. Aloysius in New Orleans Tilt

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws of Bay St. Louis were knocked from the Mississippi Coast's fast-dwindling list of undefeated football teams Sunday afternoon by the St. Aloysius Crusaders, score 19 to 0. The game played before about 3,000 fans at New Orleans City Park Stadium.

The Rock-a-Chaws were unable to get going against their tough foe and chalked up only two first downs as compared to 19 for the winners. The Crusaders did their scoring in the Last three periods.

It was an 83-yard drive sparked by Chetta, Totorich, and Woods that produced the first tally, with Totorich doing the actual scoring through left tackle from the seven. Then Jones passed to Ken Maloney for the extra point of the game.

In the third period a poor Stanislaus punt which went out on the Rock 31 led to the tally. Woods cracked left tackle for two 13-yard gains in a raw and then Totorich plunged through the same spot for five yards and a touchdown.

A fumble in the fourth set up he final score of the game. Digirolamo was the lad who dropped he ball and hustling Joe Cronin plunged on it to give the Crusaders irst down on the Rock 12. It took ust three more line bucks and hen Totorich went over from the hree.

Sunday afternoon at City Park stadium. It was the worst beating Stanislaus has received from Jesuit since their recent series began.

The Jays showed a lot of drive as they hammered across seven touchdowns and generally mauled the Rocks around for the 48 minutes. It was a woefully weaker Stanislaus team than that which stopped the state champions to a 7-6 defeat last year.

Ray Coates, spindle-shanked tailback, and Bill Schroll, vicious-driving and tackling fullback, led the onslaught. Coates scored two touchdowns, one on a 95-yard run, while Schroll ripped the Rock line to pieces, scored one touchdown and turned in a brilliant defensive job. Al Widmer, little Jesuit captain, scored two tallies, Norm Hodgins chalked up one and Warren Brady scored the other. Tom Loker kicked four extra points.

Sid Gautreaux and Nick DiGiralamo, who led the Stanislaus running attack, clicked for the lone Rockachaw touchdown on a nine-yard pass in the final period. Digiralamo threw it and Gautraux snagged it for the score. Gautreaux' try for conversion was not good.

The Jays were looking forward to next week's important Nicholls game and apparently decided to beat the Rocks without showing too much of their offense. Tom Loker was kept under close wraps and the Birds threw only six passes, completing four. Loker was thrown only two aerials, one of which he caught on a leaping catch and the other was too long. He was kept on the bench much of the time as were several of the Jays' starting linemen.

Here's how the scoring went:

Seven—After the kickoff and four plays, Widmer swept around left end from the 25 to a touchdown. Loker converted from placement.

Thirteen—Less than two minutes later, the Jays were deep into Stanislaus territory again after Warren Brady recovered DiGiralamo's fumble on the Stanislaus 14. On the next play, Coates broke off tackle for the score. Loker's kick was not good.

Twenty—Walt Scanlan recovered another Rock fumble shortly after the start [illegible] second [illegible] After for a touchdown. Loker's kick was good.

Thirty-Three—In the third period, Jesuit ploughed down to the Stanislaus 13 from where Widmer pitched to Warren Brady for a touchdown. Loker's kick was not good.

Forty—A few minutes later, Jesuit bounced back to the Rock five, from which point Schroll bucked over. Loker converted.

Forty-Six—Norman Hodgins scored the final Jesuit touchdown on a plunge through left tackle. Henry Verlander's try for point was not good.

Six—A beautiful 53-yard pass from DiGiralamo to Gautreaux set up the Rockachaws' tally. DiGiralamo advanced the ball to the Jesuit nine and from there heaved a pass to Gautreaux for a touchdown. Gautreaux' kick was blocked.

JAYS FAVORED IN PREP CLASH AT CITY PAR

Contest Is Dress Rehears Champs Face in Next Few Games

BY STANFORD OPOTOWSK

Jesuit meets St. Stanislaus afternoon at City Park Stadiu a dress rehearsal for the big p and the Blue Jay shock tro aren't going to pull any punche

Up to now the Jaybirds h been just getting in shape. Th contests with Lake Charles, M airie, and Baton Rouge didn't ha any possible effect on the Prep League race. The St. Aloysius fracas did have some bearing on the situation, but the battles that really count are those that lie ahead—Nicholls, Holy Cross and Easton.

And who is here to test the Jay mettle but Stanislaus?

Last year, you will recall, the Rockachaws invaded the Crescent City under similar circumstances. The Jays were undefeated and heading for their second straight city championship. Apparently unmindful of the setup, the Rocks then proceeded to paste the Bluebirds about and hand them what turned out to be the season's only defeat.

No Blanchard

Well, the same result isn't expected this year even though the pregame facts are the same. For one thing, the Rocks are now performing without the great Doc Blanchard, who spent last fall smashing opposing lines to smithereens. Against St. Aloysius, to whom they lost 19-0 a couple of weeks ago, the Rockachaws looked anything but sensational. They've improved a good deal since then, coast reports claim, but in spite of that Jesuit will be a decided favorite at this afternoon's 2:30 o'clock kickoff.

Al Widmer and Bill Schroll are slated to lead the Jesuit offense against Stanislaus in today's game. Both are hefty lads with a combination of speed and power. And they'll get aid from such fellows as Ray Coates, Ray Cureau and Norman Hodgins.

Loker Is Good

The Jesuit line play, which will be watched closely for comparison with other city teams, features Tom Loker, a leading candidate for all-prep and all-state end honors. Too, you have Tom Scanlan, Stanley Garlepied, and several others also doing some good work in that forward wall.

Sid Gautreaux and Nick Digiralamo, who starred for Stanislaus against St. Aloysius and who also sparked their team to victory over Moss Point last week, are again expected to top the Rock offense today. But a lot depends upon the Gulf coast team's reserves. The cause will have been won if they can even equal the performances of their Jesuit opponents.

Lawsuit claims abuse at youth jail

By ROBIN FITZGERALD
rfitzgerald@sunherald.com

BILOXI — A lawsuit filed on behalf of a 17-year-old boy claims he and others at the Harrison County Juvenile Detention Center were abused over the past two months and were forced to live in unsanitary conditions.

Fairley

Advocates who filed the lawsuit against Harrison County on Monday said the alleged abuses against a youth identified in court papers as "D.W." are similar to complaints they've heard from other youths.

D.W., speaking at a news conference at the NAACP office in Biloxi, said he was abused before and after he was placed on suicide watch.

"I threatened to kill myself and the guards told me to go ahead," D.W. said. "So I tried to hang myself. I didn't want to be dead, I just wanted to go home and get out of that place."

D.W. claims he was on suicide watch when he was attacked by a guard.

The State Farm claims manager whom policyholders have long wanted to question in Katrina litigation has been ordered to give pre-trial testimony in a whistle-blower lawsuit.

U.S. District Judge L.T. Senter Jr. ruled Monday that State Farm employee Alexis "Lecky" King can be questioned under oath by attorneys for Kerri and Cori Rigsby. The Ocean Springs sisters adjusted State Farm claims after Katrina.

Their lawsuit alleges State Farm defrauded the federal government by charging the National Flood Insurance Program for wind damage the insurance company was obligated to cover.

The Rigsbys say King was the manager who ordered changes when engineering reports blamed wind rather than water, covered by federal flood insurance, for Katrina damage.

The Rigsbys allegations in 2006 fueled a state investigation of State Farm and King, who has previously invoked her right to avoid self-incrimination in responding to policyholder questions under oath. Attorney General Jim Hood's investigation ended without any charges being filed.

King has denied any wrongdoing.

State Farm has since said King would be able to respond to questions, but has objected to producing her for pre-trial testimony. In the Rigsby case, State Farm argued that King was not involved in adjusting the only flood claim still at issue.

However, the Rigsbys allege she was involved in subsequently ensuring the engineering report in that case was altered to minimize wind damage. The Rigsbys argued the wind and flood claims could not be separated.

Senter said he agreed "to a certain extent." He also wrote that State Farm "should not be in control of limiting the areas of inquiry."

Senter also will allow the Rigsbys' attorneys to take the pre-trial testimony of Brian Ford, the engineer who produced the first report on the flooded property and Jack Kelly, who wrote the second report.

The testimony will be taken in preparation for a May 20 hearing, after which Senter will determine whether the case should go forward against State Farm, Haag Engineering and Forensic, which employed Kelly and Ford. Shortly after Katrina, a Haag engineer authored a report on the storm that many believe minimized the impact of Katrina's winds. Insurers, including State Farm, referred to the report in adjusting claims.

"A guard choked me from behind and slammed me on the floor," he said. "Then one guard sat on my back. While that guard held me down, another guard dropped his knee on my neck, slammed my face to the floor and then pushed my face into the concrete. I couldn't breathe."

Devonsha Fairley, D.W.'s mother, said she was unaware of the alleged incident until she went to visit her son and noticed bruising around his wrists.

The youth was released from custody on Monday.

The lawsuit claims youths at the center are shackled for punishment, assaulted by the staff and receive inadequate mental health care. The complaint also claims the youths are in overcrowded and unsanitary conditions that contribute to scabies and staph infections.

The lawsuit was filed by the Mississippi Youth Justice Project and the Mississippi Protection and Advocacy System Inc.

The detention center is on McElroy Street and is operated by Mississippi Security Police Inc. of Pascagoula. According to the lawsuit, the company is paid about $1.6 million a year to house up to 48 youths but sometimes has as many as 60.

"It is a travesty that the county has chosen to let a private company profit by neglecting and abusing our children," said Vanessa Carroll, a staff attorney for Justice Project.

Tim Holleman, attorney for Mississippi Security Police, said he's never heard of the allegations.

"We deny the allegations," Holleman said. "I do know one time a year ago a client of mine there got a staph infection, but I called and advised them and they addressed it.

"But it's very suspicious to me that these folks would come down and file this kind of lawsuit without having previously brought it to the attention of the Board of Supervisors. I think it's a bunch of grandstanding to hold a press conference like that."

Joe Meadows, Harrison County attorney, said he received a copy of the lawsuit Monday afternoon but had not had time to read it.

"The board can only act through its minutes," Meadows said. "I will review it and send it to the board so they can authorize a response at their next meeting on the first Monday in May."

The lawsuit claims that advocates have been denied access into the center to provide federally mandated services for children with disabilities.

The lawsuit is not seeking a specific amount of money but is asking the federal court to monitor the center and award the plaintiffs reasonable costs and attorneys' fees.

Justice Project attorneys said they have interviewed more than 30 children in the past two months.

Attorneys said the Justice Project supports alternatives to detention for youths who pose no threat to public safety. The alternatives include electronic monitoring and day reporting centers.

Man dies in wreck on I-10

SUN HERALD

A man died Monday after a truck he was driving ran into the median of Interstate 10 and hit a tree, officials said.

Mississippi Highway Patrol Cpl. Johnny Poulos said the accident happened about 5:50 p.m. near exit 50 in Ocean Springs.

A truck was traveling eastbound and appeared to have mechanical problems, witnesses told investigators. The truck went into the road's median and collided with a tree, Poulos said.

The driver, whose identity wasn't released Monday night, died at the scene. His passenger was transported for medical care.

year. In 2003, Blanchard told the Sun Herald, "I thought it would do a lot more good at the school."

Brother Ronald Hingle, who has been with St. Stanislaus for 13 years, including the last three as school president, was one of the men who rode out the storm on the campus grounds. He helped make sure it was safe and sound a couple days after Katrina passed.

"The legend goes," SSC sports publicist Joe Gex said, "that Brother Hingle said, 'We grabbed Doc's Heisman and left.'"

It's actually a little more involved than that.

Hingle and about 25 other Brothers of the Sacred Heart remained on campus as Katrina approached. The school had about 50 students and another 25 faculty and staff hunkered down at SSC's main building, which was built after Hurricane Camille flattened Bay St. Louis and the rest of the Coast in 1969.

"In 155 years at the school, we've never left for a storm," Hingle said. "I grew up in New Orleans and have been familiar with hurricanes all my life. Camille brought winds of about 210 mph right over our school. It destroyed three buildings. So the school's main building was built to withstand a Category 5 hurricane. We felt pretty safe."

The only real scare, Hingle said, was when other SSC staff members with infants and young children at the school cafeteria reached him on his cell phone.

"He said, 'We're standing on tables and appliances and the water's rising,'" Hingle said. "The debris on the doors was blocking them from getting out."

Hingle and two other men used the school's elevated walkways to get to the cafeteria and return everyone to the relative safety of the main building. They began to assess the damage to the school later that afternoon, but couldn't begin to evacuate the students until Wednesday, Aug. 31.

"The Bay St. Louis police came by and said we were an island," Hingle said. "There was no way out, and no way in."

The Brothers began to make travel arrangements for the SSC students before relocating to Baton Rouge themselves. Blanchard's Heisman Trophy, as well as the other awards, were stored in a display case on the second floor of the school. The first floor had been washed away.

"It was under lock and key, but the police told us that probably wouldn't stop any looters," Hingle said. "The key was gone. So Brother Francis (Fleming) took a hammer and broke the glass, and we took the Heisman, and the other trophies, to Baton Rouge."

The Heisman is back where it belongs now, back where Felix "Doc" Blanchard always wanted it.

of Law Enforcement were called in to do an independent investigation. The three deputies involved in the shooting were placed on administrative leave pending the outcome of the investigation. That is standard procedure.

Prior to his death, Lasseigne had been featured several times in the Sun Herald as one of South Mississippi's most wanted criminal suspects. He'd also been featured on the television show, "America's Most Wanted," on two occasions.

Authorities allege Lasseigne killed his mother and then stayed at the home the two shared at Brown's Trailer Park in Gautier several days before her body was found. He was last seen days after the murder leaving the trailer park in the silver Toyota Yaris he was later killed in.

Gautier police had been investigating the case, with agents with the U.S. Marshal's Gulf Coast Regional Fugitive Task Force assisting in the search from the start.

Justin Vickers, supervisory agent in charge of the Gulf Coast fugitive task force, said he got the first clue that Lasseigne might be in Florida on Friday, when he noticed that a variation of Lasseigne's licence plate had been run. But because the tag wasn't run with Mississippi's disabled marker included, Vickers said, it didn't immediately show that it was registered to a Mississippi murder suspect.

The same sheriff's deputy who first spotted Lasseigne's vehicle weeks before his death and ran the tag without anything showing up was among the three St. Johns sheriff's deputies who noticed the car again Saturday. This time, the tag was run in a way that showed that it belonged to Lasseigne.

"It's an unfortunate end to a tragic beginning," Vickers said Monday of Lasseigne's demise. "Now that the identification has been confirmed, it is my hope that the family of Mrs. Juanita Gibson and Mr. Rodney Lasseigne will be able to begin the healing process and get some closure on the tragic events that have occurred over the past eight months."

Gautier Police Lt. Jerry Cooksey, the lead investigator in the murder, said that official confirmation from Florida officials came in around 4 p.m. Monday.

"Rodney was the lone suspect in this case," Cooksey said Monday. "As far as the status of this case, a thorough review of the case and all evidence will be conducted before any further determination (about the case status) is made."

Cooksey said over the weekend that he hoped Lasseigne's family could find some closure now that he'd been located. "I regret that he (Lasseigne) will not be able to answer the family's questions of why Rodney (allegedly) did this to his mother," Cooksey said.

Blanchard had physical gifts, and a rare humility

By Jim Mashek

Sun Herald

College football was a different sort of animal when Felix "Doc" Blanchard won the Heisman Trophy for Army in 1945.

It was the year of Jackie Robinson signing with the Brooklyn Dodgers' top farm club, Harry Truman succeeding FDR in the White House and V-J Day. College football rivalries were fierce, sure, but little captured the nation's attention like Army vs. Navy and the Cadets' annual game with Notre Dame.

Blanchard and Army teammate Glenn Davis were saluted as the premier players in the country, and Davis hauled in the Heisman himself in 1946.

Message boards in those days told you to use Burma Shave or see Rock City.

Blanchard's legend was as big as Stone Mountain, but that wasn't the way he carried himself. The most famous graduate in St. Stanislaus history died on Sunday at the age of 84 in Bulverde, Texas.

And he'll never be forgotten, either, according to SSC president Brother Ronald Hingle, who has been with the school for 13 years.

Blanchard donated his Heisman Trophy, along with the Maxwell Award and Sullivan Award he also won in 1945, to St. Stanislaus about 20 years ago. The gesture was true to "Mr. Inside's" character, according to Hingle. Davis, "Mr. Outside," won the Heisman Trophy in 1946. Together they helped Army post a three-year record of 27-0-1 as World War II was coming to a close.

In 2005, Davis died at the age of 80 in California.

"What Doc Blanchard meant to us, as a school, was pretty significant," Hingle said. "He not only was a legendary sports figure but he was, as we say at the school, a man of character. He was a man who has taken all the gifts God has given him, and used those gifts to better himself, but more important, benefit others.

"The Heisman and the other awards were in a box in his garage. He didn't even have them displayed in his home. Two of his classmates, Ben Kleinpeter and Lucien Gex, convinced him to donate the Heisman to the school. He was a humble guy. He didn't really want any attention.

"He didn't see it as that big of a deal."

Packer making a push with Eagles

Defensive end has superb spring game

SPECIAL TO THE SUN HERALD

Willie Packer of Moss Point is expected to battle for playing time at defensive end for Southern Miss this season.

By AL JONES
afjones@sunherald.com

With 16 starters back from a team that won its last five games of the 2008 football season, Southern Miss has its eyes on Alcorn State for the Sept. 6 season opener.'

"I am glad spring is over, and we came out of it with no major injuries," head coach Larry Fedora said. "That was a goal of ours."

Another bright spot is the return of wide receiver DeAndre Brown of Ocean Springs and running back Damion Fletcher of Biloxi. Brown is still rehabilitating a broken leg. Fetcher is expected to rejoin the team after a suspension forced him to miss spring drills.

But, there are a few holes that must be filled before two-a-days begin on Aug. 3.

Leading the offense will be Brown, Fletcher, quarterback Austin Davis and four returning starters on the offensive line.

But, the kicking game is unsettled.

Handling place-kicking duties will be Justin Estes or Daniel Hrapmann, a sophomore transfer from Southeastern Louisiana. Quarterback Bret Jeffcoat is in the mix at punter.

"It (place-kicker) is still wide open, and we might not know who it will be until the end of fall camp," Fedora said. "Justin had a good spring for us and so did Daniel. I feel good about either one. As far as punting, Jeffcoat is doing a good job for what we want. I think the pieces are there, we just need to put them together."

Hrapmann connected on a 35-yard field goal as time expired to give the Black team an 18-15 win. Estes missed the game due to an ankle injury.

Defensively, the Golden Eagles are solid at linebacker with Korey Williams in the middle along with Martez Smith, Ronnie Thornton and Hendrick Leverette.

The secondary features Andre Watson leading the way at one corner and Hicks at safety to go with Chico Hunter and C.J. Bailey of Moss Point.

Up front, look for former Moss Point standout Willie Packer (6-3, 275) to play a major rol end. Packer, who redshirted last season, collected six tackles in the spring game, including two solo stops.

"I think Willie is just now starting to touch the cover," Fedora said. "We just locked him down at an end, and he is starting to understand what we want. Willie has a great motor and knows what to do. He has a lot of physical talent, and he will help us next year."

Offensively, Fedora said he was pleased with the development of Davis along with wide receivers Gerald Baptiste and Quentin Pierce as well as freshman running back Desmond Johnson.

Davis, who started all 13 games last season as a freshman, completed 28-of-38 passes for 246 yards and a touchdown pass in the spring game.

"We are always going to be a physical football team," Fedora said. "We need to find out who is going to make the big plays for us. Granted, our two biggest play makers (Fletcher and Brown) were not on the field on offense.

"For the most part, I think the pieces are there."

Kennedy accepts plea deal

Basketball coach apologizes in court

By JIM MASHEK
jwmashek@sunherald.com

Ole Miss basketball coach Andy Kennedy has had the criminal case stemming from a December altercation with a Cincinnati cab driver resolved on Monday, resulting in a rebuke from the school's administration along with six months probation, a $100 fine and 40 hours of community service.

Kennedy

Kennedy remains the Rebels' coach but did not get a customary contract extension. He accepted a plea bargain on disorderly conduct charges and apologized in open court to the complainant, Cincinnati cab driver Mohammed Moctar Jiddou. Kennedy had faced first-degree misdemeanor assault charges before accepting the deal.

"Coach Kennedy's on-the-court performance this season warranted a contract extension," Ole Miss athletic director Pete Boone said in a statement. "Nevertheless, coach Kennedy knows that any conduct that is detrimental to the image of Ole Miss is unacceptable.

"Therefore, coach Kennedy and I have mutually agreed that an extension will not be consummated at this time."

Jiddou said Kennedy punched him and called him "bin Laden," among other ethnic slurs, after a disagreement over the number of passengers in his cab. Kennedy's attorney, Mike Allen, said the coach "did not strike Mr. Jiddou," but he acknowledges showing poor judgment and apologized for the incident.

Kennedy filed a defamation suit against Jiddou shortly after his arrest, which resulted in a countersuit and a possible civil trial. He apologized to Boone, Ole Miss and university chancellor Robert Khayat and said he takes "full responsibility for my actions and the consequences that follow."

Kennedy's squad went 16-15 last season, losing in first-round play of the SEC Tournament, after a series of early season injuries, including the loss of last year's SEC Freshman of the Year, point guard Chris Warren. He's in the first year of a four-year rollover contract that pays him about $800,000 annually.

Boone met with reporters on Monday afternoon and said he thought Kennedy handled the situation with resolve and restraint.

"Adversity has a way of opening some doors, and sheds light on things," Boone said.

Ole Miss assistant coach Bill Armstrong, who was also arrested the night that night in Cincinnati, pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct and paid a $100 fine and court costs.

Gulfport native Owen Miller and former Ole Miss point guard Michael White are also members of Kennedy's coaching staff.

Ocean Springs breaks ground on sportsplex

By REYN PRAVATA
SUN HERALD

OCEAN SPRINGS — Youth sports in Ocean Springs got a big lift on Monday.

A groundbreaking for the Ocean Springs Ball Fields Complex were held off Mississippi 57 just south of the Sunplex Industrial Park. Work will soon begin on a 40-acre complex.

"Play ball," Moran said as she finished her talk at the ceremony. Moran and other dignitaries said it looks a win-win situation for the City of Ocean Springs.

The complex will provide area children with about 40 acres of playing fields and concessions facilities. Five baseball diamonds, four softball fields, two football fields and four high school soccer fields are to be built on the site.

For many, the opening ceremony was a great day.

"Personally, this is a great day," said John McKay, a Jackson County supervisor. "I was the the first (Ocean Springs) recreation director back in 1971, and I had this as a goal. I was pushing for this way back then. This was a goal of mine and this is a red-letter day."

The consensus was the complex will be a plus for many reasons.

"This is a quality of life issue," Moran said. "It's not only great for our kids to have a place to play, but it will also bring income into the community."

McKay agreed.

"This is wonderful for our community," McKay said. "With the 2 percent sales tax we were able to make it happen. We will bring a lot of revenue into our community."

The complex will not only give the local children a regular place to play, but it will also allow the city to host tournaments, which bring in big money.

"We've long needed this for our children," said Jerry Straight, director of the Ocean Springs Parks & Leisure Department. "Our local leagues will benefit and will be able to host tournaments. That will help businesses in our community."

Joseph Furr is an architect for the project, and he said he hopes to have the football fields ready for the fall of 2009.

"The key is to have sound, solid fields that will drain well," Furr said. "And clean restrooms and concessions that everyone will enjoy."

Ocean Springs back to defend 5A title

Harrison Central or Jim Hill awaits in Friday's game

By MIKE WOOTEN
SUN HERALD

The Ocean Springs Greyhounds storybook season of 2008 consisted of many heart-stopping moments on the way to claiming the 5A state championship.

The long road to defending their title will begin Friday at newly remodeled Greyhound Field as they will host the winner of the Harrison Central/Jim Hill game at 4 p.m.

Ocean Springs, (17-9) won the district championship last Friday by defeating George County and head coach Jesse Kanode and his Greyhounds are looking for more post-season success.

"The experience we gained last year is invaluable," Kanode said. "Our guys have executed all year, with timely hitting and steady pitching."

The Greyhounds have been led on the mound by Harvard signee Robert Wineski, (9-1) and Matt Nettles (2-4).

Ocean Springs has displayed a consistent offense all year, producing runs from top to bottom of the lineup with the likes of Wineski, senior catcher Ben Slaton and senior Zach Desto leading the way.

"We have hit the ball consistently with runners in scoring position and used the hit and run to our advantage," Kanode said. "We have taken a good approach at the plate in hitting the ball where it is pitched and using the count to the hitter's advantage."

Harrison Central will host Jim Hill on Thursday at 6 p.m. with the winner of that game taking on Ocean Springs at Greyhound Field.

"Harrison Central and Wes Rea can be really tough," Kanode said. "We have a lot of respect for Rea, he is a great pitcher."

Kanode would like to see the Greyhounds improve on defense and pitch ahead in the count.

"We have to play better with the glove," Kanode said. "Our pitchers need to throw ahead in the count and avoid falling behind, and we will be OK."

Games are scheduled at Ocean Springs for 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. on Friday and Saturday beginning at 1 p.m.

In other 5A series, Gulfport faces Natchez with the winner facing 5-5A champion Oak Grove. Pascagoula meets Brandon with the winner facing 8-5A champion Petal. Biloxi plays Meridian with the winner facing 6-5A champion Terry.

Coast teams continue in softball playoffs

By MIKE WOOTEN
SUN HERALD

Fast-pitch softball has grown in popularity as well as the quality of play over the last few years, and the three Coast teams playing for the South State are proof of it.

In a highly anticipated series matching arguably the two best pitchers in the state, D'Iberville's Kimi Wagner takes on East Central and Lindsey Dickerson in a two-out-of-three playoff for the South State 4A crown.

D'Iberville's Warriors (26-2) advanced after beating Bay High 4-0 over the weekend.

Now the Warriors will host East Central at a 7 p.m. Thursday with games two and three, if necessary, at Hurley at 2 p.m. Saturday.

The Gulfport Lady Admirals will travel to Petal in the 5A South State series on Thursday at 6 p.m. with games two and three, if necessary, set for Gulfport on Saturday at noon.

Gulfport advanced fter defeating Brandon 6-0 on Saturday to sweep its series Wagner, a Western Kentucky signee has made a reputation for herself while hurling a blistering fastball around 63 mph from 40 feet that has resulted with the Lady Warriors compiling a 26-2 record.

Wagner has amassed 373 strikeouts and a career total of 1,257 while chalking up 102 wins in six years of softball for the Lady Warriors.

"She is a special person and athlete," said D'Iberville coach Donna Swilley. "If you come across a young person like this once in a career you are lucky."

"Jordan Adams, Cayleigh Anspach and Brie Harper have really done a good job for us," Swilley said. "They have played well all year."

East Central defeated Poplarville 1-0 over the weekend to clinch a berth in the 4A South State finals.

East Central the defending South State 4A champions and 2007 state champions have been there before and will answer with Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College signee Lindsey Dickerson on the mound.

Dickerson 20-3, has compiled an equally impressive record of 247 strikeouts this season and a total of 971 for her career.

"These are two of the best in the Southern United States," Lady Hornet coach Eric Neal said. "This series will be with two clubs that are about as good as it gets, it will be a lot of fun."

Gulfport, (18-8) has found success from an overall team trust and work ethic that has brought success to a squad that features seven seniors as starters.

"A lot of our girls have played together for a long time," Gulfport coach Lisa Wesson said. "They trust each other and have pulled together all year."

The Lady Admirals will send senior hurler Presley Wesson, (9-3) to the mound in a lineup that features the timely hitting of Kris Albritton, Meg Newman and Wesson.

"The first game in Petal is a big one," Wesson said. "You want to come into Saturday with a game in hand."

Billups' outburst keys Denver win

By ARNIE STAPLETON
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

DENVER — Chauncey Billups can't recall any of his other 117 playoff performances being as big as his 36-point outburst in front of his homies.

"It was definitely one of my best games in the playoffs," Billups said Monday after reviewing film of his stirring play in Denver's 113-84 whipping of New Orleans in Game 1 of their playoff series Sunday night.

His first playoff game in his hometown included a career-high eight 3-pointers, one shy of the NBA playoff record, eight assists and no turnovers, plus a courtside view of the final 8 minutes of the unexpected blowout he ignited.

"More importantly just winning is everything," Billups said. "When you're going to have a special night like that, it's a great time for me to have that. But it was definitely one of my best performances."

Billups' big game helped Denver snap an eight-game postseason losing streak, halt a five-game playoff skid at home and take a 1-0 lead in their best-of-seven series with the Hornets.

Billups hadn't scored this many points since joining the Nuggets a week into the season and transforming them into a legitimate threat after so many years of fits and starts and first-round flops.

"I was hoping that he would get 15 of them if we needed them," said Rex Chapman, the Nuggets' vice president of player personnel and one of three players to have made nine 3-pointers in a playoff game, along with Ray Allen and Vince Carter.

"There's a couple of big differences between the ones I it and the ones Chauncey hit," Chapman said. "It took me 17 attempts to get nine and about 47 minutes of playing time. It took him nine shots to get eight."

Celtics even up series against Bulls

BOSTON — Ray Allen picked the perfect time to snap out of his shooting slump.

Allen made a tiebreaking 3-pointer with 2 seconds left and finished with 30 points, leading the Boston Celtics a 118-115 win over the Chicago Bulls in Game 2 of their playoff series Monday night.

Ben Gordon nearly carried Chicago to a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven series. He scored with 12.3 seconds left to tie it, and had a playoff career-high 42 points. Then Boston set up a play for Allen, who took a pass from Rajon Rondo and connected from the right side.

Allen had just four points on 1-for-12 shooting in Boston's 105-103 overtime loss on Saturday.

The next two games of the series are scheduled for Chicago on Thursday night and Sunday.

Allen scored 28 points in the second half, which turned into a shootout between the All-Star guard and Gordon.

Consecutive 3-pointers by Gordon gave the Bulls a 109-104 lead before the Celtics rallied. Glen Davis made two free throws and Rondo connected on a long jumper to give Boston a 112-111 lead with 1:01 to play.

It's a big deal, of course, at St. Stanislaus, where visitors are known to come by to look at the trophy. Ohio State's six Heisman Trophies sit encased in the entrance to the school's indoor training facility. Billy Cannon's rests easy in a Baton Rouge restaurant.

Blanchard's and Davis' Heismans are housed at their respective high schools.

Blanchard's father, a physician who graduated from SSC in 1915 and played college football at Tulane, put the 13-year-old boy on a train in Bishopville, S.C., bound for the Coast. That's why Doc Blanchard held St. Stanislaus so close to his heart.

"He would tell anyone he met that he owed a lot of success to the years he spent at St. Stanislaus," said SSC basketball coach Jay Ladner. "I can't remember how many times we sent him a replica of an Army football helmet for him and Glenn Davis to sign, to raise money for the school. I spoke with him on the phone several times over the years, and he was an amazing gentleman."

Blanchard played fullback and linebacker for the Rockachaws and handled all of SSC's kicking duties. He still holds several school records, including 42 career touchdowns, and also played basketball before competing in the shot put and discus in the spring. He won the NCAA shot put title while at West Point.

Army will retire his No. 35 next fall in a home game against Vanderbilt. St. Stanislaus has already done so with his No. 61, but we'll keep that on the down low, because we're guessing he doesn't want to make a big deal about it.

RIP, Mr. Blanchard.
